Teacher Files Lawsuit on Apportioning

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Lake County junior high school teacher has added his official contribution toward immediate reapportionment of the Ohio House of Representatives.

Jack Webb, an English teacher in Madison, filed a suit Monday with the Ohio Supreme Court asking an order to reapportion the state under the 1851 constitution as it stood before the 1903 Hanna Amendment. The amendment allows each county representation regardless of population.

The recent U.S. Supreme Court decision has been interpreted as knocking out the Hanna Amendment. A three-judge U.S. District Court panel in Cincinnati is studying a similar suit by James Nolan of Cleveland that was returned by the U.S. Supreme Court. The district court earlier had upheld the Hanna Amendment but was reversed.

Webb, a Democratic nominee for the apportionment board composed of the governor, auditor and secretary of state.

Gov. Wallace Gets Orders

Court Presses For Integration

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A three-judge federal panel has ordered Gov. George C. Wallace and the State Board of Education to cease interfering with school desegregation.

The order Monday noticeably did not order statewide integration. Instead, it:

—Prevents Wallace, State School Supt. Austin Meadows and other members of the State Board of Education from interfering with any desegregation order a federal court might hand down.

—Orders the Macon (Tuskegee) County School Board to desegregate immediately all four high school grades from the 9th to the 12th and at least one elementary grade in every school.

—Reprimands the State Board of Education for "failing, in the exercise of its control and supervision over the public schools of this state, to use such control and supervision... to promote and encourage the elimination of racial discrimination."

—Prevents the state from using public funds to support private, segregated schools.

However, the injunction did not:

—Order statewide desegregation of schools.

—Prohibit state authorities from continuing to allocate funds for segregated schools.

—Rule Alabama's pupil placement law unconstitutional.

The three judges—Richard Rives of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals and District Court Judges H. H. Grooms of Birmingham and Frank M. Johnson of Montgomery—made it clear that they will retain jurisdiction and may take further action "if such interference... continues or occurs in the future—either directly or indirectly—through the use of subtle coercion or outright interference when the local school authorities are attempting to comply with the desegregation orders of a federal court."

Lima Hospital Escapee Nabbed

HUNTINGTON, Ind. (AP)—An escapee from Lima (Ohio) State Hospital was arrested near here Monday night after a farmer called the sheriff's office to report a suspicious-looking man was asking for coffee.

Being held is Donald Fortner, 26, of Marion, Ohio. Authorities in Lima said Fortner walked away from a hospital farm crew Monday morning.

Police said that shortly after the escape Mrs. Marilyn Meeks of Lima reported that a man had forced her to give him her pocketbook and took her car.

The auto was found at the farm near here when Sheriff Marion Van Pelt picked up Fortner. Van Pelt said the man offered no resistance.

Billy Graham Holds First Youth Night

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Total attendance at evangelist Billy Graham's Ohio Crusade is expected to go over the 100,000 mark tonight as the 10-day program here reached the half-way mark.

The largest crowd yet, estimated at 29,000, attended the service in Jet Stadium Monday night — first of three youth nights. A staff member said about 75 per cent of the throng were under 25 years of age.

The record gathering also produced the largest number of "inquirers," 1,325, to come forward after the message by Graham.

With his message geared to the youth, Graham said: "Young people are searching for the answers and they want to do their own research. You have to make your own decisions and commitments."

He said that although youths are idealistic and rebellious against authority they actually crave leadership.

The evangelist said he finds two great problems in universities and colleges—intellectualism and morality.

"Intellectual persuasion never converted anyone to Jesus Christ," Graham said. "Unless your mind and heart is touched by the Holy Spirit you can never come to Christ and outside Christ there is no ultimate truth."

Coed Can Visit Men If Door Left Open

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP)—Rutgers University has let down the bars against visits by women to men's dormitory rooms.

Bombs, Torches Feed South's Racial Strife

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Bombs and torches have intermittently fed racial discord in the South during seven long years of gradual and often grudging change in segregation patterns.

The targets have been houses of worship — churches, synagogues, temples—the homes of ministers, of integration leaders, and schools and businesses.

From early 1957 when blasts went off at four Negro churches in Montgomery, Ala., until September 1963, there were no bomb or fire fatalities.

The worst of the violence came last Sept. 15 in Birmingham, Ala. A stunning explosion blew a big hole in the 16th Street Baptist Church during Sunday school, killing four Negro girls and injuring a score of other persons.

Fires and bombings had dwindled against until the burning or attempted burning of eight Negro churches during the past month in rural areas of Mississippi.

Fires destroyed two rural churches near Kingston, Miss., only Monday. It was a church burning at Philadelphia, Miss., earlier that figured in the disappearance of three civil-rights workers on their way to visit the scene of the blaze.

The pre-dawn bombings in Montgomery came after city buses had been desegregated under a court ruling and followed a year-long bus boycott by Negroes.

Scrantonites To Try To Change Platform

Barry Moans 'Damage' Done

Fellow Republicans Rapped by Senator

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Driving his delegates toward a first-ballot nomination, Sen. Barry Goldwater stopped along the way today to try to "put my rope" on a few strays. He also bemoaned the damage he thinks fellow Republicans have done him.

With no morning session in the GOP Convention, Goldwater dropped in on the Oregon delegation and told them that Democrats "can do no more damage to me than some Republicans have already done."

"Republicans," he added, "should have discussed the failing of the Johnson administration, not whether Goldwater wanted to drop a nuclear bomb."

The backers of Gov. William W. Scranton formed their faltering stop-Goldwater drive for one more try to stop the Goldwater bandwagon's swift flight toward the presidential nomination.

Scranton's backers plan to try to hammer three amendments into the carefully constructed platform bearing the Arizona conservative's endorsement.

The expected platform battle seemed likely to provide about the last gasp of the Scranton effort to head off Goldwater. The Arizona senator claimed 800 votes for a first-ballot nomination Wednesday. He needs only 655.

The latest Associated Press compilation credits him with 781, if they stick with him, including 42 he gobbled up Monday when Ohio delegates were released by Gov. James A. Rhodes to vote for the man of their choice on the initial ballot.

If there was any chance that Goldwater might ask Scranton to share the ticket with him, it apparently disappeared finally when the Pennsylvania governor said Monday night that he did not write a bitterly critical letter forwarded under his signature to Goldwater Sunday night. But Scranton assumed the responsibility for it.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Historical Society has announced the retirement of its veteran director, Erwin C. Zepp, and appointment of assistant director Daniel R. Porter as associate director to become administrative head of the society.

Porter was director of the York County, Pa., Historical Society and assistant to the director of the Wisconsin State Historical Society before coming to Ohio in July 1961.

Keynoter Says Bigots Must Be Overcome

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Youthful Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon has called on Americans of all political persuasions to rally to the Republican banner and "set out again on a pilgrimage of faith."

"We offer America a choice—a choice between fear and faith," Hatfield said Monday night in his keynote address to the Republican National Convention.

"In the program of the Republican Party is a victory for all Americans — Republicans, Democrats and Independents."

Hatfield, 42 last Sunday, told the 2,161 delegates and alternates at the Cow Palace: "Our faith challenges any who would destroy freedom, whether they wrap themselves in a false cloak of patriotism or in an equally false cloak of religion."

Developing this theme, he flaired at the "bigots in this nation who spew forth the venom of hate."

"They must be overcome," he said, "and this applies to the Ku Klux Klan, the John Birch Society, the Communist Party, and the hundreds of others like them."

Cheers split the air at this declaration by the photogenic governor, who linked faith to the Negroes' quest for civil rights.

The Republicans, he said, "have faith that, for those minorities which do now have equal opportunity... we can find the means of assuring to each of them access to these prerequisites of progress."

The converse of faith is fear, and in his traditional castigation of the Democrats Hatfield asked: "Why do they fear to tell the American people what our foreign policy is—even when American boys are dying in a war without a name?"

This reference to South Viet Nam points up a budding campaign issue. Similarly, without mentioning either President Johnson or Bobby Baker by name, Hatfield declared:

"You cannot sweep a Hi-Fi set under the rug and expect the bulge not to show."

The reference here was to the expensive stereo set Maryland insurance man Don Reynolds told Senate investigators Baker suggested he send Johnson after writing an insurance policy on Johnson's life.

Baker, secretary to the Senate Democrats when Johnson was minority leader, was the subject of a Senate investigation after it was learned he built a private business empire while on the government pay roll. The White House has acknowledged Johnson received the set.

Herbert Hoover, near 90, Is Given Ovation by GOP

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Herbert Hoover had shown up at every Republican National Convention since the one that nominated him for president in 1928.

Four years ago, he arose and told delegates he never would show up again. "No, no," they cried.

But Hoover, 90 next month, is not showing up at the 1964 convention.

The former president sent a message to the delegates and, ill Monday night in his Waldorf-Astoria suite in New York, watched television to see the speech read for him.

Everett M. Dirksen, with all the flourishes and mellow tones at his command, read the speech to the delegates and prefaced it with a tribute to "the grand old man of the Grand Old Party."

Dirksen said Hoover had been unfairly criticized, for it was his fate to be in the White House when the depression began in 1929.

"No public official in our times has been so castigated because of economic forces generated outside the country, over which he had no control," Dirksen said.

3 Amendments To Be Offered

Rights, Extremism, Arms Issues Eyed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Backers of Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton reach today for broader party support on three platform issues in a struggle to keep alive his bid for the GOP presidential nomination.

They were trying to start a convention floor fight on the party platform in hopes it would melt away some of the massive strength that has accumulated behind Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

The Scranton forces filed three major amendments to the platform, which was written by a committee under firm control of Goldwater sympathizers. They will try to force votes on these late today when the statement of party positions comes before the rank and file delegates. The subjects are civil rights, control of nuclear weapons and political extremism.

The language proposed showed a willingness to give some ground on the chance of winning over Republicans not unalterably committed to either of the major contenders.

For example, the proposed civil rights amendment does not contain the flat declaration that the civil rights law is constitutional, a statement for which Scranton long contended. It does speak of constitutional rights and calls for a number of measures, such as strengthening the Justice Department's civil rights branch, cutting the congressional representation of states that deny citizens the vote and pressing for state legislation in behalf of civil rights.

Goldwater, who voted against the act, questioned constitutionality of two of its key provisions, but he promised to enforce the law as president.

The committee voted a plank, condemned by Scranton and others as inadequate, promising implementation and execution of the law. Scranton said execution might mean no more than signing it.

Another amendment would put the party on record as repudiating "the efforts of irresponsible, extremist groups, such as the John Birch Society and others" to try to infiltrate responsibility.

Grand Old Party is listening to this program. What better way to exhilbrate his spirit than to give him an ovation to lengthen his span of years. Let him hear you."

Hoover then heard a long, noisy outburst from the convention. The delegates cheered, waved state banners. The band played "Stanford Red," the song of the university Hoover attended.

In his message to the delegates, Hoover said that Republicans need something briefer than a platform that "requires eight or nine columns of newspaper type to explain itself."

"The people need to know your conclusions on public questions," Hoover said, "but their presentation does not require more than two columns. Even the Bill of Rights requires not more than one column."

Hoover then proposed a short platform, including these sample planks.

1. "The major world issue today is whether government shall be the servant or the master of men."

2. "The protection of our freedom requires that budgets be balanced, waste in government be eliminated, and taxes be reduced."

3. "Human values transcend all others."

Vietnamese Pour Terror on Reds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—South Vietnamese government squads, generally operating in stealth at night, have begun a campaign of terror against Viet Cong officials in the Mekong River Delta.

Small teams of commandos, armed with exact intelligence and daggers, are moving into Viet Cong hamlets in critical provinces near Saigon, assassinating key Viet Cong leaders, and slipping away.

They are leaving calling cards on the bodies of their victims—an enormous white eye printed on a black slip of paper.

Officials say the idea is to fight the Viet Cong with Viet Cong tactics.

For years the Communists have terrorized rural government officials, often torturing and slaying their wives and children as well as the officials.

Officials hope ultimately to make Viet Cong-like squads the basic front-line militants against the Communists.

"Everything depends on exact and rapid intelligence in penetrating the Viet Cong secret infrastructure," a U.S. adviser said.

"We're using a lot of new tactics, and some are paying off. One is the use of census teams in provinces we're trying to pacify. After the names of each family in a hamlet have been listed, the census team requires that one member of the family come around to answer a questionnaire once every 15 days.

"The man or woman is asked: Do you have any complaints about local government administrators? Do you need anything in particular? And do you know anything about Viet Cong activity?"

Another American said he felt the campaign of terror against Communist officials was beginning to pay off.

He observed: "Some of the death squads have been finding a lot of empty beds. The Viet Cong leaders know that squads may come for them on any given night, and they never know when they may get a black eye pinned on themselves. So they're starting to sleep in different places every night and doing all the things our people have been forced to do for years. I don't think it's going to help enemy morale."

Nixon Tagged 'Peacemaker'

Ex-Veep Expected To Seek Unity
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Richard M. Nixon arrives today at the Republican National Convention in the role of a peacemaker.

Nixon, the party's presidential nominee four years ago, is expected to appeal for unity when he addresses the convention Thursday night after the standard bearer is selected.

The former vice president has been practicing law in New York City since Californians rejected his bid for governor in 1962.

Accompanied by his wife, Pat, he lands at San Francisco International Airport and then quickly begins a round of political talks.

First, there is a luncheon given by an old friend, Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, the permanent convention chairman, for George Murphy, the former actor who is running for the U.S. Senate in California.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower indicated he will be at the luncheon "if possible," Morton's office said. Morton's aides said Sen. Barry Goldwater had accepted for sure.

After lunch, Nixon's staff said he'd be talking politics—but it wasn't certain with whom he would be conferring.

Wednesday, Nixon and his wife will hold a reception at a downtown hotel—to get together, an aide said, "with the people with whom he has worked in the party for the past 20 years."

Thursday will be Nixon's big night—a speech to the convention after it has picked its presidential nominee. He is expected to urge the feuding factions to pull together.

3 More U.S. Officers Die In Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Three more U.S. Army officers—a major and two captains—and 16 Vietnamese Rangers were killed Monday in a Communist ambush on a highway notorious for such attacks.

A U.S. enlisted man and 21 government troops were wounded in the rain of heavy-weapons fire that the Viet Cong guerrillas poured into the 16-vehicle convoy 45 miles north of Saigon. The ambush occurred on bloody Route 13, which connects Saigon with the Cambodian border 80 miles to the north. Five other Americans have been killed in ambushes on the road in the past two years.

The deaths Monday brought the total of U.S. military men killed in action in South Viet Nam since December 1961 to 157. Another 983 Americans have been wounded in action.

The names of the latest American dead were withheld in Saigon, but in Washington the Army announced the deaths in Viet Nam of Maj. Joseph W. Burkett, Stephenville, Tex.; Capt. Billy T. Hatfield, Fayetteville, N.C., and Capt. Richard M. Sroka, Pueblo, Colo.

Business Briefs

Herbert H. Trumbo, marketing and research director for Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co., announced today that the Fifth Biennial Electric Manufacturers Exposition will be held Feb. 9, 10 and 11, at the Veterans Memorial Building in downtown Columbus.

Serving as co-chairman with Trumbo are Russ Canterbury, field engineer, Federal Pacific Electric Co., and Robert E. Boyd, sales promotion manager, Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co.

This event draws visitors from all over the United States, and is considered a top trade show in the electric industry. In making the announcement, Trumbo said, "more than 150 companies will display equipment in some 125 exhibits in the upcoming show."

Trumbo went on to say the Committee is busy making plans for the biggest Exposition yet, with more than 4,000 persons expected to attend.

Chief Temple noted that arrests were not nearly as frequent as when the system was first put into effect last month. Speeding had posed a serious problem in residential areas prior to the crackdown on heavy footed motorists, the chief pointed out.

CIRCLEVILLE'S Pumpkin Show is to be the subject of a 30-minute color presentation on TV's "This is America" series. The colorful documentary was filmed here during the 1963 fall festival and will be seen on one of the Channel 4 upcoming programs.

The program was telecast last Saturday in Seattle, Wash. A friend of Elbert Hunt, 160 Norfolk Ave., forwarded a clipping from a Seattle tabloid that sang praises of the Pumpkin Show and advised readers not to miss the telecast.

YOU CAN'T escape it! The topic of conversation seems to fall into three categories this week — GOP, PGA or BG. In coffee break circles, if the subject isn't the GOP convention in California it's the PGA Championship at the Columbus Country Club or the Billy Graham Crusade at Jet Stadium.

STILL ANOTHER discussion subject, this time on the local scene, is Thursday's third annual "Sidewalk Sale" sponsored by the Retail Merchants division of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce.

For the past two years, the event has been termed a "miniature Pumpkin Show." Merchants go all out to present an old-fashioned sales promotion. Bargains are expected to be plentiful and most stores will stay open until 8 p. m. Delightful entertainment has been planned for the entire day.

Bands To Play At State Fair

Entries from two Pickaway County band units will present concerts at the 1964 Ohio State Fair, according to Ralph LaRue assistant fair manager.

The local bands, that will join approximately 150 other high school units, are the Pickaway County 4-H Band consisting of 36 pieces and the 80-piece Teays Valley High School Band.

This year, Ohio's 111th State Fair will run for 11 days and nights. It opens with Youth Day on Friday, Aug. 28, and continues through Labor Day, Sept. 7.

County To House Prisoners From Village of Tarlton

A resolution approving a contract for housing of prisoners prosecuted in Tarlton in the County Jail was approved yesterday by the Board of County Commissioners.

The Commissioners said it marked the first contract between Pickaway County and Tarlton concerning care and maintenance of prisoners. The agreement will be in effect from now until Mar. 1, 1967.

Approving the move for the county were Commissioners Clyde Michel, Lloyd Melvin and Wayne Hines. Alan Hubbell, mayor, signed for Tarlton.

The contract sets the rate at $2.25 per day per prisoner for a 24-hour period. Less than a day, the charge is set at 75 cents per meal served.

ble party positions or attach themselves to GOP candidates. Goldwater has declined to disavow the support of Birch members, and the platform committee rejected any plank on extremism.

There were reports the Scranton strategists might delete the specific reference to the John Birch Society.

The Scranton amendment on nuclear weapons is aimed at Goldwater's statements that it might be desirable to give some leeway to the supreme military commander of North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces in the use of relatively small, tactical atomic weapons. Under present law and policy, no atomic weapon of any sort may be employed without specific authorization of the president.

The amendment would reaffirm "the historic constitutional precept of civilian control over the military" and declare that "the authority to use America's nuclear weapons belongs only to the president of the United States."

Deaths

MRS. BELVA JEFFRIES
Mrs. Edith Long, Route 2, has received word that her cousin, Mrs. Belva Jeffries, 79, died Saturday.

MR. MARVIN H. LANMAN
Services were held yesterday for Mr. Marvin H. Lanman, 59, Elizabeth N.J.

Mr. Lanman, a native of Pickaway County, died Friday. Requiem Mass was said at St. Vladimir's Catholic Church at Elizabeth, N. J., with burial in Rose Hill Cemetery.

Real Estate Tax Extension Granted

Second-half real estate tax collections are not due until Aug. 10, because of an extension according to Pickaway County Treasurer Robert W. Wood.

The County Board of Commissioners yesterday granted a 30-day extension to property owners for taxes due by law on June 20, Wood said. In turn, the treasurer received an approval for an additional 20-day extension from the State Board of Tax Appeals.

Wood said it has been the custom in Pickaway County to request the extension. The delay gives farmers an opportunity to harvest their wheat crop before taxes are considered delinquent.

Divided Germany

For nearly 20 years Germany has existed as a divided country. An increasing part of the population has never known anything except two Germanys, and the pace of reunification is so slow the political situation at the end of the next 20 years may not be much different from that of today.

In some respects—notably the Berlin wall and the frequent troop harrassments—the “German question” has deteriorated over the last two decades. In trade, the stature of West Germany has grown while the East German government of Walter Ulbricht has run the Soviet satellite into the ground.

The irony of the economic contrast of the two German halves has not escaped the Soviet Union. The purpose of division of the country, and the isolated city of West Berlin, was to cause the free half to wither on the vine. To Soviet embarrassment, the reverse happened.

East Germany is a potentially strong industrial region. Before World War II it contained the heart of the German industrial might. But since its captivity behind the iron curtain a transformation has occurred which has all but denuded East Germany of all economic importance.

The iron-handed Ulbricht regime has stifled the will of his subjects, a large part of the professional and skilled population has fled to free Germany, and many of East Germany's communist neighbors are engaged in extensive trade with the Bonn government.

Whether deliberately or accidentally, East Germany is slowly being squeezed in an economic detente caused by a weakening of eastern Europe's tight communist society. West Germany has become one of the largest free world traders with the communist bloc, capturing a sizable portion of the trade formerly enjoyed by East Germany.

Bystander in Machine Age

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—One of life's little ordeals is the machine age.

While the more sophisticated members of the human race speak knowingly of the nuclear age and the challenge of the space age, most of the people on earth still have little or no knowledge of how to deal with the gadgets of the machine age.

This is true even in highly civilized countries. There are a surprising number of people to whom anything operating mechanically remains a lifelong mystery.

They may have a superior intelligence in other ways, but they simply are mentally allergic to gadgets, gears and wheels.

Degrees of mechanical ineptitude vary. Millions of Americans are unable to learn to drive an automobile. Others can't even drive a nail with a hammer.

Such people are more to be pitied than censured. At times—if they can just keep their thumbs out of the way—they may even manage to do good in the world.

My own existence has been one long struggle with the machine age. I was born too late to have to deal with the problem of harnessing horses, and too ignorant or too proud to cope with the problems of the gasoline engine and the electric motor.

I first realized what life held in store for me when I made a simple wooden bookrack in grammar school, and the blighted thing fell apart before I could get my handiwork home. If I planted a tree, the roots came up; the branches stayed underground.

When a fellow is this unhandy, his only salvation is to lean on others. He becomes a bystander in the machine age, not a participant. He spends most of his time feeling helpless.

But whatever a man's handicap is, he must do his best to overcome it.

In this respect I have not been without my victories. My wife doesn't let me play our three-speed phonograph or adjust the air conditioner. These instruments are too valuable for the tyro.

However, I have learned to turn on the gas stove without setting fire to our apartment—although the back burners still give me considerable trouble. My wife also lets me tune in the television set in her presence, but she always finds it necessary to plug over later herself and sharpen the focus.

At long last I have also learned how, on some days, to work the electric toaster and the electric can opener. But I never plug them in without first offering up a mental prayer to Allah to save me from electrocution.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Businessmen making their own evaluation of the state of business are noting today three trends:

—The supply of money is expanding faster again after a slowdown earlier in the year.

—Inventories that had been rising fast have taken a tumble. —Retail sales have eked out only a slim increase but still enough to set a high.

The larger money supply is expected to act as a spur to the economy. The inventory cut is considered as removing, at least for a time, a potential danger watched in any prolonged business upswing. And the retail sales advance, slim as it was in June, is dubbed a savor of continuing confidence by the consuming public which can bolster the life expectancy of the business expansion.

Government officials and corporate executives have stressed other phases of the economy:

record industrial production, employment and personal incomes; bullish sentiment in the stock market; and record earnings.

But the dollars-and-cents nature of inventories, sales and money supply affects the daily health of business and gives a glimpse of the future.

The Federal Reserve Board puts the money supply at $155.9 billion at the end of June, compared with $153.2 billion in December. The supply is arrived at by adding demand deposits and currency outside banks.

Under the board's fairly easy money policy for the last three years, the money supply had been going up steadily—by 3.7 per cent last year. The rate slowed this year, with May standing at $154.5 billion. The sizable increase in June brings the growth rate this year to around 3 per cent.

Some businessmen feel the June gain is due to an easier money policy of late, after a slight lessening of the ease a few months back.

The money supply greases the ways for consumer purchases, business spending, and gives the banks the lendable funds for expansion plans.

Downtown Galion Hit By $50,000 Blaze

GALION, Ohio (AP)—Fire caused an estimated $50,000 to $75,000 damage Monday to a two-story frame structure which has stood on Galion's downtown public square for 85 years.

Fire Chief John Durtschi said wiring in an upper storage room may have been the source. Part of the upper floor collapsed into Tom McMew's restaurant on the first floor. A branch studio of WBCO radio, Bucyrus, also was damaged.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

What is the difference between local and general anesthesia? What factors determine the choice?

Anesthesia, derived from the Greek, means "absence of feeling or sensitivity."

And that is the purpose of anesthesia — to free the body or a part of the body from any painful sensation.

Local anesthesia desensitizes or numbs only a specific, limited area of the body for surgery.

There is a wide selection of local anesthetics. Commonly used are ethyl chloride applied directly to the skin in a spray, and various forms of novocain given by injection. The patient remains fully conscious and aware of what is going on. He cooperates with the surgeon and plays an active part in the procedure.

Hypnosis can be effectively used in conjunction with local anesthesia to further reduce the discomfort of surgery.

Under general anesthesia, the patient is totally unconscious and the entire body loses all sensation.

Certain drugs like atropine, morphine and the barbiturates are usually given before a general anesthetic. They aid in relaxing the patient and enhance the safety of anesthesia.

There is a great variety too, of general anesthetics, and often they are used in combination. Usually the patient is first "put to sleep" by an inhalation anesthetic like ether, chloroform or cyclopropane.

The choice of local or general anesthesia presents a complex problem. The surgeon and the anesthesiologist consider every medical and personal aspect of the individual patient before that decision is reached.

The condition of the heart and the lungs, the age of the patient, the patient's emotional stability, the expected duration of the surgery, the need for the patient's active assistance — these are some of the most important factors which are taken into account in choosing both the type of anesthesia and the particular anesthetic.

Sometimes the patient's preference can be considered in making a choice. But this can be done only when there is safe and reasonable alternative. Too often the desires of patients spring from unreasonable fears and misconceptions.

The primary objective of the surgeon and the anesthesiologist is always to insure the maximum safety and comfort of the patient.

There have been stupendous strides in the science of anesthesiology within the past quarter of a century. Many new safety factors reduce the difficulties of surgery and increase the speed of recovery.

Modern-day anesthesiologists couple their technical skill with a greater understanding of the emotional needs of patients. Their medical and psychological contributions are of tremendous value before, during and after surgery.

New Republican Landscape?

By John Chamberlain

SAN FRANCISCO—There has been virtually no speculation about what the Republican Party will be like with Goldwater in control, probably because even those commentators who were for him have not really believed in their hearts that he could make it all the way. But if he does win this week — and it begins to look like a certainty, with the reported swing to him in Wisconsin and Ohio — there will be a wild journalistic scramble to paint an entirely new Republican landscape.

The first thing to be said is that a group of relative unknowns will suddenly become the subject of interviews, cover stories, "Meet the Press" confrontations, and what-not. Denison Kitchel, who ran the Goldwater campaign, is even at this late moment an obscure expert in mining law who happened to become friendly with the Goldwater family when he moved from the East (he lived in Bronxville, and holds degrees from Yale and Harvard) to Arizona. Kitchel is credited with changing Goldwater's mind on the subject of the duty of the Federal government to enforce compliance with the separate states with the Supreme Court's decision on school integration.

Kitchel is very far from being a shoot-from-the-hip type — and in the case of a Goldwater victory in November he would be a sound think-it-over-twice man as Attorney General, a post which he would be fully entitled to for his services.

Dick Kleindienst had the ticklish job of coordinating the early "Draft Goldwater" enthusiasts, a jealous and possessive group, with the so-called "Arizona mafia" which Barry pulled in to help him after his decision to run last January. Kleindienst is credited with wishing to be Governor of Arizona. The present Governor of Arizona, Paul Fannin, wants to become a Senator, and since Barry will not run an "insurance" campaign to hold his present job if he is the party nominee for President, Fannin could have his shot at his desire. The probable double shuffle in Arizona politics would take Kleindienst out of Washington, but he would remain a valued Goldwater confidant.

Kleindienst's fellow coordinator, Clifton White, who hitched his wagon to Goldwater's star well over a year ago, will surely become a most potent Republican power. They talk now about such canny Republican pros as Len Hall of Oyster Bay, New York, and Ray Bliss of Ohio.

Well, Clifton White may be spoken of as the man who reduced Hall and Bliss to unenviable roles as "those who sat on the fence too long."

A Goldwater triumph would signal the victory of the Republican Congressional party over the so-called Republican Governors' party. This could mean that either Senator Ev Dirksen of Illinois or Representative Bill Miller of New York will get the Vice Presidential nod. It also means that Mel Laird of Wisconsin, chairman of the GOP platform committee, will be a man to confere with. Laird is a devout party man, the grandson of a former Lieutenant Governor of Wisconsin. His ideas run close to Goldwater's save on civil rights. This deviation doesn't worry him much, for he believes that Goldwater will have no more difficulty in enforcing civil rights than Lyndon Johnson, who once held to Goldwater's position that a public accommodation law would be unconstitutional. Laird took the lead recently in putting out a book of essays called "The Conservative Papers." The book marked him as a Goldwater man.

Another member of the House of Representatives, Don Bruce of Indiana, will assuredly play a big oratorical role in a Goldwater campaign against Lyndon Johnson. Bruce is currently a lame duck Congressman, for he lost out in a bid to become Indiana's junior Senator and he missed the filing date for running to succeed himself in the lower House. But he is a potent man on the platform, and he has a future in a Goldwater party.

Still another relative unknown is Lee Edwards, who has run Goldwater's publicity. Lee is the son of Willard Edwards, the Chicago Tribune's veteran Senatorial press gallery reporter. He was the first editor of an organ of young conservative Republicanism called "The New Guard." He represents the young—two million of them, according to a good estimate—who shaped Goldwater into staying the course last November when Barry really had no heart for fighting the shade of John F. Kennedy.

Ohio Delegates Relaxing Now

GOP Convention Vote Is Awaited

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ohio delegates to the Republican National Convention relaxed today, their hour of decision behind.

Little was left for them to do after their crucial decision to break away from the favorite-son candidacy of Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes and throw the bulk of their strength to Sen. Barry M. Goldwater of Arizona.

Forty-two of the Buckeye State's 58 first-ballot votes will be fired off in Goldwater's direction. That is about double the number that earlier polls of the delegation had shown for the convention front-runner.

Former U. S. Sen. John W. Bricker, chairman of the Ohio delegation, said a secret ballot of the group showed 13 who wished to stick with the favorite-son candidacy of Rhodes, at least on the first convention ballot Wednesday.

The strength of Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton dropped off to two votes in the Ohio delegation in the two-hour caucus. At one point, 10 votes had been tallied for him in a pre-convention poll by The Associated Press.

Rep. Frances P. Bolton, Ohio's only congresswoman, said she will give at least one convention vote to the GOP's first feminine presidential candidate, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine.

In fact, Mrs. Bolton promised she would make a seconding speech for Mrs. Smith's nomination. The Maine senator noted that "Frances and I started our careers in Congress almost at the same time."

Few of the delegates sticking with Rhodes wished to state their positions publicly for the moment, simply because their stand is plainly anti-Goldwater.

There was the possibility that a few of the Rhodes-oriented holdouts would swing to Goldwater by the time of the first ballot.

A Negro delegate alternate, Chester Gillispie of Cleveland, emerged early from Monday's caucus, telling newsmen he had "taken a walk" in protest against what he called the "Goldwater steamroller."

He asserted: "I do not know of a Negro in Ohio who would vote for Goldwater."

On this date: In 1789, the Bastille was stormed and captured, beginning the French Revolution.

In 1918, the son of former President Theodore Roosevelt, Lt. Quentin Roosevelt, was killed in aerial combat and buried with military honors by the Germans.

In 1942, Gen. Mark Clark was appointed commander of American ground forces in Britain.

Hootenanny Recorded by Ohio Choir

BERLIN (AP) — Wittenberg University's 65 — voice choir, which has arrived in Berlin, on its 44-day European tour, has recorded a "hootenanny" program to be beamed behind the Iron Curtain on Radio Free Europe.

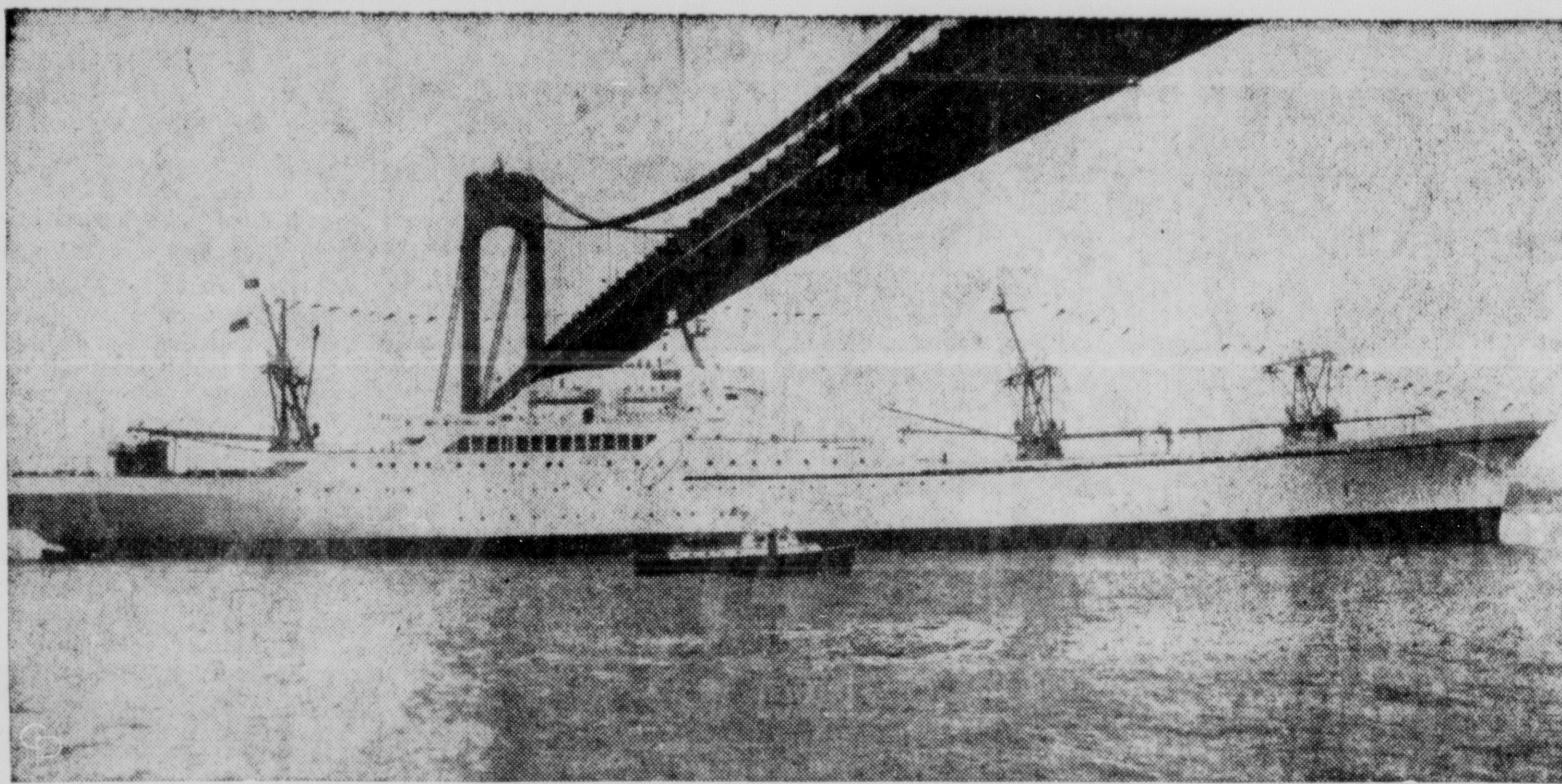

The recording session came about as a result of the choir's presentation of its folk music program in Munich last week. A representative of Radio Free Europe, who attended the Munich program, was impressed by the reaction of the German audience and asked the choir to record the show the following morning.

The choir, which has been designated as Ohio's musical ambassador of goodwill in a proclamation by Gov. James A. Rhodes, will be in Berlin until Friday. Three concerts are scheduled—two in West Berlin and one at East Berlin's Marienkirche, a major Lutheran church.

From here, the choir will visit Denmark before returning to the U.S. July 24th. It will present concerts July 25-26 at the New York World's Fair. From there, members will return home.

Ohio Delegates Relaxing Now

GOP Convention Vote Is Awaited

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ohio delegates to the Republican National Convention relaxed today, their hour of decision behind.

Little was left for them to do after their crucial decision to break away from the favorite-son candidacy of Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes and throw the bulk of their strength to Sen. Barry M. Goldwater of Arizona.

Forty-two of the Buckeye State's 58 first-ballot votes will be fired off in Goldwater's direction. That is about double the number that earlier polls of the delegation had shown for the convention front-runner.

Former U. S. Sen. John W. Bricker, chairman of the Ohio delegation, said a secret ballot of the group showed 13 who wished to stick with the favorite-son candidacy of Rhodes, at least on the first convention ballot Wednesday.

The strength of Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton dropped off to two votes in the Ohio delegation in the two-hour caucus. At one point, 10 votes had been tallied for him in a pre-convention poll by The Associated Press.

Rep. Frances P. Bolton, Ohio's only congresswoman, said she will give at least one convention vote to the GOP's first feminine presidential candidate, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine.

In fact, Mrs. Bolton promised she would make a seconding speech for Mrs. Smith's nomination. The Maine senator noted that "Frances and I started our careers in Congress almost at the same time."

Few of the delegates sticking with Rhodes wished to state their positions publicly for the moment, simply because their stand is plainly anti-Goldwater. There was the possibility that a few of the Rhodes-oriented holdouts would swing to Goldwater by the time of the first ballot.

A Negro delegate alternate, Chester Gillispie of Cleveland, emerged early from Monday's caucus, telling newsmen he had "taken a walk" in protest against what he called the "Goldwater steamroller."

He asserted: "I do not know of a Negro in Ohio who would vote for Goldwater."

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, July 14, the 196th day of 1964. There are 170 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1853, Commodore Matthew C. Perry went ashore at Tokyo with 300 blue-jackets and officers to present a letter from President Millard Fillmore to the emperor of Japan; the opening up of Japan to trade the next year was assured.

On this date: In 1789, the Bastille was stormed and captured, beginning the French Revolution.

In 1918, the son of former President Theodore Roosevelt, Lt. Quentin Roosevelt, was killed in aerial combat and buried with military honors by the Germans.

In 1942, Gen. Mark Clark was appointed commander of American ground forces in Britain.

Ten years ago—The only model of a new British crescent-winged jet, the Handley Page Victor, crashed in England, killing the four men aboard.

Five years ago—Minnesota's Sen. Eugene McCarthy and Gov. Orville Freeman announced the candidacy of Sen. Hubert Humphrey for the Democratic presidential nomination.

One year ago—U.S. and British representatives arrived in Moscow for talks with Russia on a nuclear test-ban treaty.

The next meeting will be Aug. 14 in the home of Mrs. Otis Leist.

State Parks Offer Camping Attractions

By ELEANOR ROSS

Despite increased travel abroad — all over the world, indeed, at vacation time — more and more families each year elect to pitch a tent and spend their vacation in a state park. For youngsters, this is the ideal vacation, and their elders can benefit in many ways, too.

Such a vacation offers many advantages.

It is inexpensive; it is healthful; it is the ideal way to shed tiresome routine. You can do what you want when you want to.

And it is an experience for youngsters, one that they'll probably look back on fondly in the years to come.

Such a vacation does, however, call for more careful advance planning than most other forms of vacations. A lot of gear is required, yet the more you take, the more there is to keep track of. And space is always limited.

A family pow-wow ahead of time to determine what is essential, what can be eliminated, and what can pinch-hit for other things many bring to light some resourceful space-saving tricks.

For example, a good-sized coffee pot, even though there are only two coffee drinkers in the group, does just as well as a small coffee pot and saucepan. The coffee pot can be used for heating dishwashing water, cooking vegetables, plus all the usual saucepan jobs.

Another example of a splendid space-saving pinch-hitter is baking soda. Used in combination with bar soap, it performs the function of a detergent for washing both dishes and clothes. Used dry as a scourer, it takes over the duties of an abrasive cleanser on hard-to-clean utensils. And since it sweetens as well as cleans, you'll find it indispensable for keeping the ice chest, vacuum bottle and coffee pot fresh, which means that the flavor of your food and drinks won't be tainted by unappetizing odors.

Again, it saves space by serving the family as a dentifrice. If the water happens to be hard, which well water usually is, a handful of baking soda softens Dad's shaving water.

And soda is a veritable pint-sized medicine chest when it comes to relieving many a minor mishap. Itches resulting from bug bites, poison ivy and sumac, and brush scratches, common occupational hazard of camping, are all soothed with a generous application of a baking soda paste. Simply mix a palmful of baking soda with enough water to make it "spreadable."

Sunburn or a burn from grabbing a hot pan handle or from grease splatters shed their soreness when a cool soda bicarb compress is applied.

But camping in our national parks is fun. It is fine recreation and it brings out a bit of that old pioneering spirit, which is all to the good.

Dear Abby: Exceptional or Gullible?

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I know how you feel about women who fall in love with married men, but I am the exception. I have loved a professional man for six years. I work for him. He is married in name only if you know what I mean. We have never been seen together in public as I wouldn't want to hurt his good name. He has children (three of them) and in nine years, his youngest will be 21. At that time he plans to divorce his wife, leave her comfortably provided for, and marry me. I am not a home-wrecker, and have no desire to take a man away from his wife and family. He tells me every time we are together how much he loves and respects me for my patience and fairness. Perhaps this will give other women who share my situation an idea. Sign me—

PATIENT
DEAR PATIENT: Would you like a medal for "patiently" waiting until his children are grown, and his wife is entirely alone before taking him away? I am sure he's delighted with your "patience and fairness." It also means he won't have any static out of you for the next nine years. Get wise!

DEAR ABBY: When you write someone a letter, do you think that person has the right to send it to someone else? I have a mother-in-law who does this. She has sent ME letters she has received from others, and I know that she has sent MY letters to her friends and relatives. Not that I would ever write anything about anyone that might cause trouble, but it is difficult for me to write her a letter not knowing where it will end up. How can this be handled tactfully? Maybe if you print this, my problem will be solved. She reads your column.

"CHICKEN"
DEAR "CHICKEN": "Chickens" who object to having their letters sent on to others should say so — or they'll be gone geese.

DEAR ABBY: My husband married a girl when he was very young. Without first getting a divorce he moved to another state and married again. Again without getting a divorce, he married me — telling me only that he had been "married and divorced." When our baby was two years old, he got a summons for non-support from his second wife. I learned then that there had been two marriages and no divorces. He obtained a legal divorce from his second wife (but not from his first). Am I living in sin because of this? I am pregnant again and if my husband doesn't get this thing cleared up, I am going to end up in the nut house. Can you help me? CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: YOU need a lawyer to advise you of your rights. If you can't afford one, go to your LEGAL AID SOCIETY. Your husband is a bigamist and your lawyer had better see him before the DA does.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "CAME A LONG WAY FROM SIOUX CITY":

Negro-White Church Bus Is Attacked

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—A bus driver taking a load of Negro and white church youths back to Pittsburgh reported Monday night that a window on the bus had been shattered by a pellet gun or a brick.

No injuries were reported. Driver Reid Carpenter, 25, of Pittsburgh said something hurled or shot from a parked car hit the bus after its occupants had been heckled by a group of white youths during a supper stop across the state line in Lynn, Ind.

Carpenter had told Indiana State Police in a telephoned report from Greenville that a shotgun blast hit the bus. He later said he had heard an explosion like a gun being fired and found a "pellet-like" hole in the bus.

Sgt. Robert Biggs of Indiana State Police said Carpenter reported to the Indiana police at Connersville after first notifying the Ohio Highway Patrol at Greenville. Indiana sent officers to Ohio to question him.

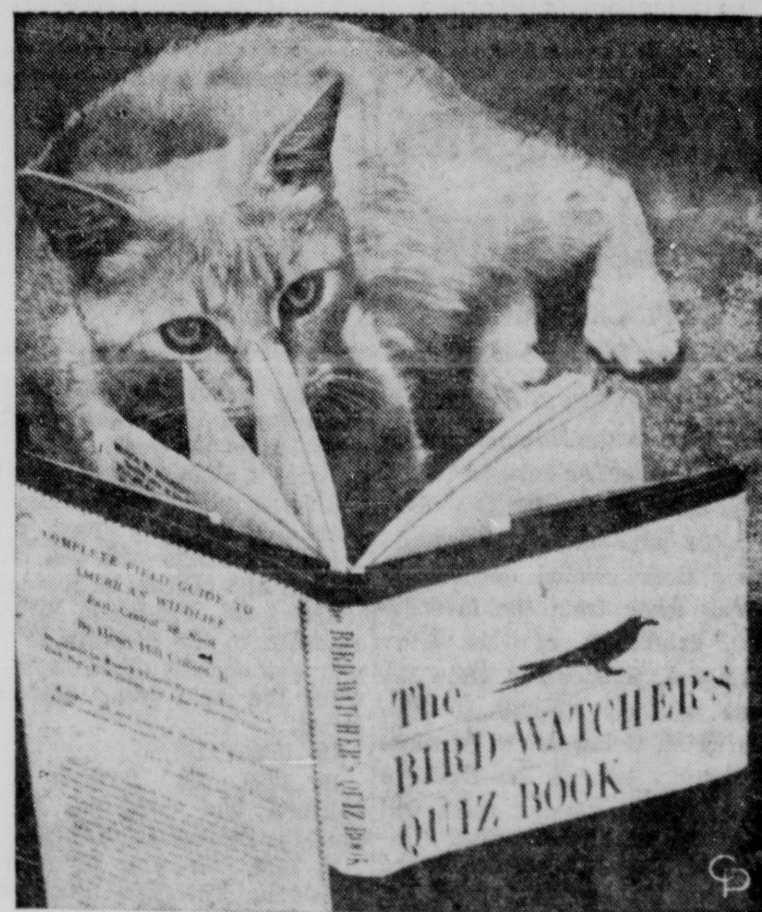

Carpenter said there were 44 persons, all from the Pittsburgh area, on the bus, including 39 teenagers. All are Negro except seven, he said.

He said his group had been to a religious youth camp in Colorado Springs, Colo., and was returning home.

Sailboat Accident Fatal To Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Lance Anderson, 25, of Cleveland Heights drowned Monday night after he slipped while fixing the sails on a sailboat and tumbled into Lake Erie.

Miss Anne Cord, 32, a neighbor who went boating with Anderson, threw a life jacket to him but he disappeared before reaching it. She said he lost his balance after a three-foot wave lifted the borrowed 21-foot boat 1,000 yards from the entrance of the Northeast Yacht Club.

STUDIES HIS "HOBBY"—Thomas, who lives in Savannah, Ga., apparently has decided to swap his catch-as-catch-can method for a more scientific approach to his "hobby."

PATIENT

DEAR PATIENT: Would you like a medal for "patiently" waiting until his children are grown, and his wife is entirely alone before taking him away? I am sure he's delighted with your "patience and fairness." It also means he won't have any static out of you for the next nine years. Get wise!

DEAR ABBY: When you write someone a letter, do you think that person has the right to send it to someone else? I have a mother-in-law who does this. She has sent ME letters she has received from others, and I know that she has sent MY letters to her friends and relatives. Not that I would ever write anything about anyone that might cause trouble, but it is difficult for me to write her a letter not knowing where it will end up. How can this be handled tactfully? Maybe if you print this, my problem will be solved. She reads your column.

"CHICKEN"

DEAR "CHICKEN": "Chickens" who object to having their letters sent on to others should say so — or they'll be gone geese.

DEAR ABBY: My husband married a girl when he was very young. Without first getting a divorce he moved to another state and married again. Again without getting a divorce, he married me — telling me only that he had been "married and divorced." When our baby was two years old, he got a summons for non-support from his second wife. I learned then that there had been two marriages and no divorces. He obtained a legal divorce from his second wife (but not from his first). Am I living in sin because of this? I am pregnant again and if my husband doesn't get this thing cleared up, I am going to end up in the nut house. Can you help me? CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: YOU need a lawyer to advise you of your rights. If you can't afford one, go to your LEGAL AID SOCIETY. Your husband is a bigamist and your lawyer had better see him before the DA does.

Negro-White Church Bus Is Attacked

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—A bus driver taking a load of Negro and white church youths back to Pittsburgh reported Monday night that a window on the bus had been shattered by a pellet gun or a brick.

No injuries were reported. Driver Reid Carpenter, 25, of Pittsburgh said something hurled or shot from a parked car hit the bus after its occupants had been heckled by a group of white youths during a supper stop across the state line in Lynn, Ind.

Carpenter had told Indiana State Police in a telephoned report from Greenville that a shotgun blast hit the bus. He later said he had heard an explosion like a gun being fired and found a "pellet-like" hole in the bus.

Sgt. Robert Biggs of Indiana State Police said Carpenter reported to the Indiana police at Connersville after first notifying the Ohio Highway Patrol at Greenville. Indiana sent officers to Ohio to question him.

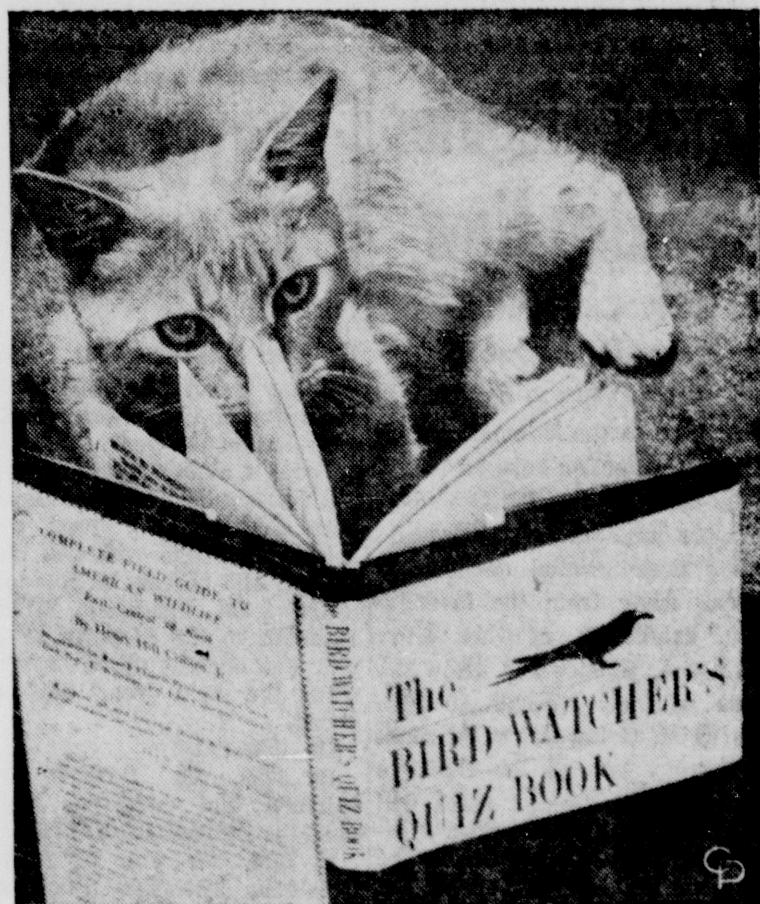

Carpenter said there were 44 persons, all from the Pittsburgh area, on the bus, including 39 teen-agers. All are Negro except seven, he said.

He said his group had been to a religious youth camp in Colorado Springs, Colo., and was returning home.

Sailboat Accident Fatal To Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Lance Anderson, 25, of Cleveland Heights drowned Monday night after he slipped while fixing the sails on a sailboat and tumbled into Lake Erie.

Miss Anne Cord, 32, a neighbor who went boating with Anderson, threw a life jacket to him but he disappeared before reaching it. She said he lost his balance after a three-foot wave lifted the borrowed 21-foot boat 1,000 yards from the entrance of the Northeast Yacht Club.

STUDIES HIS "HOBBY"—Thomas, who lives in Savannah, Ga., apparently has decided to swap his catch-as-catch-can method for a more scientific approach to his "hobby."

Senate Chief Sees Lots of Work Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP)—Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., said today the Senate "must get into high gear and stay here" if members of Congress hope to adjourn the week-end of Aug. 22.

But he referred with elation to the pace the Senate has set in the three weeks since it finished a 15-weeks debate on civil rights, and expressed confidence that goal will be met. The Democratic National Convention meets in Atlantic City, N.J., starting Aug. 24.

Both the Senate and House are in recess this week while most Republican members are in San Francisco for the Republican convention. Both houses will reconvene next Monday.

Mansfield, who as Democratic leader supervises the flow of legislation through the Senate has picked half a dozen bills for Senate action next week.

Topping the list is a controversial antipoverty measure asked by President Johnson with a first-year cost of $962.5 million.

Among Republicans already publicly opposed to it is Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., the indicated GOP standard bearer.

Soviet Farmers Given Pensions

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev has announced old age pensions for collective farmers and pay raises for doctors, teachers and employees in housing and service industries.

Khrushchev said the farmers pension measure, affecting about 6.5 million peasants, was of "tremendous historical importance." Most of them have been outside the pension system.

In a speech at the opening of the summer session of the Supreme Soviet, or Parliament, Khrushchev said the agricultural position had improved so that farmers can now be brought under the system.

The pension plan described by Khrushchev envisions minimum monthly payments of $13.20 and a maximum of $112.20 beginning next year.

The payments, however, were tightly hitched to wage levels reached before retirement age 65 for men and 60 for women.

"Let every person know that if he works well today, he will be better provided for in his old age," Khrushchev said.

"Such an approach is in the interests of the collective farmers and in the interests of the entire Soviet society."

Khrushchev announced average wage increases of 25 per cent for workers in education, 23 per cent in public health, 25 per cent in retail trade and 15 per cent in retailing and housing and municipal services.

The increases will begin with public service workers in October and all will be in effect in all categories by the end of 1964, said Tass, the Soviet news agency.

Khrushchev declared real income of the Soviet people has risen 61 per cent in the past decade. But he said not enough is being done to satisfy public demand for consumer goods. He called for greater efforts to increase production of such goods.

Khrushchev said that improving the living standards of the people is the most important problem for the Soviet Union.

The premier reported that half of the Soviet working people have high school education or better. More than 30 per cent of the national income is spent on education, he said.

Khrushchev scorned Western speculation about agricultural failure in the Soviet Union last year.

Although 12 million tons of grain were purchased abroad he said, this was only testimony to the strength of the economy. Measures are being taken to increase agricultural production, he said.

1000 Eagle Feathers Given Indians

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government let it be known today it is sending 1,000 eagle feathers to the Indian tribes of the Southwest.

Eagle feathers are highly important to ceremonial costumes of several Southwest Indian tribes, the Interior Department said, but the feathers have been hard to get.

Federal laws safeguard eagles, their feathers, nests and eggs. Nobody may possess them unless he has a permit from the secretary of the interior or acquired them before protective laws were passed.

Interior's Fish and Wildlife Service has salvaged the feathers from some 20 eagles found dead in different parts of the country, primarily in North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois and Missouri.

The larger undamaged wing and tail feathers are being sent to the Wildlife Service's regional office in Albuquerque, N.M., for distribution among the tribes.

Counterfeiting the first nine months of this fiscal year totaled $5.9 million compared with only $3.4 million for all of last year, Rep. Wright Patman of Texas recently disclosed in the House of Representatives.

Scranton Sees...

John Conny, a Scranton press aide, said the governor had not seen the letter before it went to Goldwater and had not ordered it sent to the senator. He did not volunteer the names of those who were responsible.

Scranton said that some of the letter's acrid language attacking "Goldwaterism" was "too strong." But he said he still thinks the issues with which it dealt are important.

It was generally understood in the Goldwater camp that his choice for his vice presidential running mate was Rep. William E. Miller, New York Roman Catholic, who heads the Republican National Committee. But there was a reservation that if former President Dwight D. Eisenhower should request it, some approach to Scranton might be made.

Goldwater said, after hearing Scranton's explanation on the letter that "I feel more charitable about it now."

If the presidential and vice presidential nominations thus seemed to be more or less resolved, there remained the choice of a new national chairman to succeed Miller. Denison Kitchel, Goldwater's campaign manager, emerged as the top choice for this job.

Monday night, in the convention's keynote speech, Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon said that in opposing the Democrats the Republicans should offer the nation "a choice between fear and faith."

Hatfield characterized the Johnson administration as fear-breeding and reactionary, accused President Johnson of doubletalk and needed him about the Bobby Baker case.

Republicans have said they intend to make a campaign issue out of the private financial operations of Bobby Baker, secretary to the Senate Democrats when Johnson was their leader. Johnson accepted a hi-fi set a Washington insurance man said he sent Johnson at Baker's suggestion.

Hatfield got resounding applause when he criticized the John Birch Society, the Ku Klux Klan and the Communist party. He urged Republicans, Democrats and independents to "set out again on the pilgrimage of faith—as opposed to fear and hatred."

For the first time in 36 years former President Herbert Hoover, now 89 and ailing, is not at the Republican convention. He sent a message which was read for him by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

Hoover proposed a brief, eight-point declaration of principles in place of the long platform the convention will adopt today and said the Republican party offers the "best assurance that these principles will prevail in the United States."

An emotional peak was reached when Dirksen called for "an ovation to lengthen his span of years." The Cow Palace rocked with cheers.

Both Goldwater and Scranton paid calls on Eisenhower at his hotel Monday. Neither came away with any tangible evidence that the former president is doing anything but remaining neutral in the presidential contest.

Centralized School Bus Policy Studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — After seven hours of testimony on Ohio's proposed plan for centralized school bus purchases, the State Board of Education had to return for a second session today—which still isn't expected to settle the issue.

The 23-member board waded through lengthy testimony, as required by law, but a spokesman said the board probably would table the matter until the August meeting. If approved then, the plan would go into effect in October.

Under the proposal, school districts which receive funds from the state toward the purchase of school buses would have to accept the single lowest and best bid for each capacity bus. Exceptions would be granted in cases where a school district has a fleet composed of a single make of bus or where service on the low-bid bus is not available.

In the past, eligible school board submitted a request for a school bus purchase based on bids from local dealers. The state, through a dollar formula, provides about 60 per cent of the cost.

John Parsons, supervisor of pupil transportation for the Ohio Department of Education, estimated that more than $1.5 million could be saved annually through centralized bids on the 800 buses supported by state aid.

NYC Trains Collide; 2 Men Injured

EATON, Ohio (AP) — A 10-year-old witness said two New York Central freight trains "bounced up and down like a ball" when they collided head-on at Lewisburg Monday afternoon.

Bryon Osswald was only 300 feet away from the shattering collision that injured two men and caused damages around $400,000.

R. N. Taylor, 43, engineer, and L. H. Mosier, 40, fireman, both of Van Wert, escaped serious injury when they jumped from their southbound freight of 18 cars.

Mosier said he told Taylor: "Throw the emergency and get off."

Taylor suffered scratches. The other injured man was H. C. Fleming of Van Wert, fireman on the 35-car northbound train. He suffered a broken leg and was taken to Good Samaritan Hospital, Dayton.

According to witnesses, both trains sounded their whistles and appeared to be applying their brakes. Two cars on each train were derailed. One of two engines on the northbound train and the southbound engine also jumped the tracks.

About 150 yards of track was torn up.

NYC officials said the northbound train was ahead of schedule. It left Carlisle Junction near Middletown early, officials said. The southbound train was to stop and switch cars in Lewisburg, 10 miles northeast of Eaton.

She Visits Ailing Mate, Faces Loss of Children

CLEVELAND (AP)—A mother of seven on relief, who is in Cleveland so she can be close to her sick husband, faces the loss of the children she left behind in Warren unless she can get help.

"Unless I can get some help within a week, I'll lose the children," Mrs. Clara Reel said Monday. "The welfare people in Warren will take them."

Mrs. Reel has been staying the last six weeks with friends in suburban Westlake. Her youngest child, 1, is with her, and the others, ranging in age up to 14, are with relatives in Warren and Morgantown, W. Va.

Those families can no longer care for the children, explained Mrs. Reel.

Her husband, a diabetic, is a patient at the veterans hospital here. He was admitted with what was first thought to be a heart attack. Doctors now are not sure what is wrong with him, said Mrs. Reel.

Reel, 48, has been in and out of veterans' hospitals a number of times and has been unable to work the last five years. The family was on the relief rolls in Warren.

Since Reel is a veteran, he is not eligible for hospital care in Warren and must come to a government hospital, said his wife.

She said the relief checks stopped when she came to Cleveland. She will not be eligible for welfare aid here for six months.

Mrs. Reel said she talked to Social Security and Veterans Administration officials about the possibility of financial help but has no idea how soon it may come.

She said doctors have said her husband may become well enough to leave the hospital but they did not indicate when.

"I don't want to go back to Warren," said Mrs. Reel. "It's too far from the hospital. The last time my husband became ill, a friend drove us to Cleveland and we almost didn't make it."

The Reels have lived in Warren since their marriage 15 years ago. He was a bus driver and mechanic before becoming ill.

Chamber Panel Slates Session

Members of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce Business - Education committee will meet noon Wednesday at Tink's for a luncheon session.

The group is in the midst of setting plans for the second phase of Business - Industry - Education Day, which was conducted here in March. Alden D. Bray is chairman of the committee.

The second phase that is now on the drawing board calls for business and professional personnel to visit area schools. The program completed last March consisted of city-county teachers visiting local firms.

According to the present schedule, the third phase will be built around a program in which advanced high school students visit business and industry.

Scranton Sees ...

John Conmy, a Scranton press aide, said the governor had not seen the letter before it went to Goldwater and had not ordered it sent to the senator. He did not volunteer the names of those who were responsible.

Scranton said that some of the letter's acrid language attacking "Goldwaterism" was "too strong." But he said he still thinks the issues with which it dealt are important.

It was generally understood in the Goldwater camp that his choice for his vice presidential running mate was Rep. William E. Miller, New York Roman Catholic, who heads the Republican National Committee. But there was a reservation that if former President Dwight D. Eisenhower should request it, some approach to Scranton might be made.

Goldwater said, after hearing Scranton's explanation on the letter that "I feel more charitable about it now."

If the presidential and vice presidential nominations thus seemed to be more or less resolved, there remained the choice of a new national chairman to succeed Miller. Denison Kitchel, Goldwater's campaign manager, emerged as the top choice for this job.

Monday night, in the convention's keynote speech, Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon said that in opposing the Democrats the Republicans should offer the nation "a choice between fear and faith."

Hatfield characterized the Johnson administration as fear-breeding and reactionary, accused President Johnson of doubletalk and needed him about the Bobby Baker case.

Republicans have said they intend to make a campaign issue out of the private financial operations of Bobby Baker, secretary to the Senate Democrats when Johnson was their leader. Johnson accepted a hi-fi set a Washington insurance man said he sent Johnson at Baker's suggestion.

Hatfield got resounding applause when he criticized the John Birch Society, the Ku Klux Klan and the Communist party. He urged Republicans, Democrats and independents to "set out again on the pilgrimage of faith—as opposed to fear and hatred."

For the first time in 36 years former President Herbert Hoover, now 89 and ailing, is not at the Republican convention. He sent a message which was read for him by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

Hoover proposed a brief, eight-point declaration of principles in place of the long platform the convention will adopt today and said the Republican party offers the "best assurance that these principles will prevail in the United States."

An emotional peak was reached when Dirksen called for "an ovation to lengthen his span of years." The Cow Palace rocked with cheers.

Both Goldwater and Scranton paid calls on Eisenhower at his hotel Monday. Neither came away with any tangible evidence that the former president is doing anything but remaining neutral in the presidential contest.

Centralized School Bus Policy Studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — After seven hours of testimony on Ohio's proposed plan for centralized school bus purchases, the State Board of Education had to return for a second session today—which still isn't expected to settle the issue.

The 23-member board waded through lengthy testimony, as required by law, but a spokesman said the board probably would table the matter today until the August meeting. If approved then, the plan would go into effect in October.

Under the proposal, school districts which receive funds from the state toward the purchase of school buses would have to accept the single lowest and best bid for each capacity bus. Exceptions would be granted in cases where a school district has a fleet composed of a single make of bus or where service on the low-bid bus is not available.

In the past, eligible school board submitted a request for a school bus purchase based on bids from local dealers. The state, through a dollar formula, provides about 60 per cent of the cost.

John Parsons, supervisor of pupil transportation for the Ohio Department of Education, estimated that more than $1.5 million could be saved annually through centralized bids on the 800 buses supported by state aid.

NYC Trains Collide; 2 Men Injured

EATON, Ohio (AP) — A 10-year-old witness said two New York Central freight trains "bounced up and down like a ball" when they collided head-on at Lewisburg Monday afternoon.

Bryon Osswald was only 300 feet away from the shattering collision that injured two men and caused damages around $400,000.

R. N. Taylor, 43, engineer, and L. H. Mosier, 40, fireman, both of Van Wert, escaped serious injury when they jumped from their southbound freight of 18 cars.

Mosier said he told Taylor: "Throw the emergency and get off."

Taylor suffered scratches. The other injured man was H. C. Fleming of Van Wert, fireman on the 35-car northbound train. He suffered a broken leg and was taken to Good Samaritan Hospital, Dayton.

According to witnesses, both trains sounded their whistles and appeared to be applying their brakes. Two cars on each train were derailed. One of two engines on the northbound train and the southbound engine also jumped the tracks.

About 150 yards of track was torn up.

NYC officials said the northbound train was ahead of schedule. It left Carlisle Junction near Middletown early, officials said. The southbound train was to stop and switch cars in Lewisburg, 10 miles northeast of Eaton.

Persons Ready To Retire Consider Their Home Sites

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Are you retired?
Are you planning to retire soon?

Will you retire some day?
If the answer to any of those questions, is yes, try this one:

In retirement, do you want to live in a community with other elderly persons of the same economic class or in a town or city where residents range from the newly married to the aged?

If the home building industry could get a degree of agreement in reply to that last question, it would breathe a little easier each time it had to make a decision whether or not to build a housing development with features and facilities designed especially for the elderly.

Some builders have had tremendous success with retirement communities. Others have had neither more nor less success than if the homes had not been aimed at a particular target. And some have had to change their whole concept when it became apparent that the idea, which looked so good in the planning stage, was destined to fail financially.

There are probably many different reasons why there has been such a variety of results, not the least of which is the general character of each new community, affecting individual decisions more than the physical comforts designed to please the senior citizens. And it may be that some mistakes have been made in supposing that all retired persons belong to a category in which all think alike and therefore want the same things.

Aren't old persons entitled to have as many varying opinions about where and how they want to live as do the young and the not-so-young and the middle-aged?

Peace and quiet are fine for some elderly persons, but there are many who must be near the busy life to which they have become accustomed, even if they are not active participants any longer. In short, the old are likely to select a retirement home more on the basis of location than on many of the house features expected to appeal particularly to them. All of this, of course, refers to those who retire in reasonably good physical health.

This matter of location, by the way, is all-important to every home seeker, young or old. A recent survey listed location as the most important factor in choosing the buyer to take a home. After that came the floor layout of the house and the sizes of the rooms.

Conclusion: while it's fine for builders to include certain extras in the houses built for the retired, it is more important that the site selected be suitable for persons of different tastes.

WON'T DESEGREGATE—Lester Maddox, owner of the Pickrick Restaurant in Atlanta, Ga., declares he would go to jail before complying with a federal action to desegregate his establishment. pushing "a positive program for responsible extremism."

There are all kinds of people here, even delegates, but the ones who seem to be having the most fun are the wandering bands of kids. Like streeturchins in an Italian movie, they go from one free load to another, from one hospitality suite to the next, collecting lot, punch, soda, campaign buttons and tracts with fine impartiality.

For all the noise, bands, exhibitionists, for all the pickets for "Ringo (of the Beatles) for President" or those crying "Earl Warren must repent," for all the big button wearers, including those whose pins cry simply for "Help" or "Mother" or "Stop Stassen," memorable wit remains hard to come by.

However, one Goldwater delegate was overheard asking another Goldwater delegate: "What do you think of Scranton?" Answer: "Don't know. Never been there."

With all the important people here, unless you're Dwight D. Eisenhower or one of the major candidates, about the only way to attract any real attention is to look conspiratorial in a hotel lobby. The thing to do is lean over to a friend and whisper, "I must get in touch with my people immediately." Do that and you'll be drowned under reporters, blinded by camera lights and choked to death with television.

Another way is to undress in public. One healthy young blonde drew off the mob in front of the Mark Hopkins Hotel by appearing in a blouse cut down to her waist. On one side of her striking superstructure she wore a Goldwater button; on the other, a Scranton button but nothing for the middle of the roaders.

3 Young Girls Drown in Lake at Conneaut

CONNEAUT, Ohio (AP) — No other details were immediately available. Three young girls drowned Monday in Lake Erie near Conneaut Township Park, police reported.

They were tentatively identified by police as Gail Pate, 11, and Shelly Baker, 8, both of Conneaut and Marie Stanziano, 10, of Detroit.

Nearly one-third of all money in circulation in 1865 was counterfeit, according to the Treasury Department. The situation led to the establishment of the Secret Service to suppress the violations.

GOP Women Go To Work In Convention

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A record 573 women delegates and alternates have taken seats for the first sessions of the Republican National Convention with pretty secretary Polly Buck of Delaware in the starring role of roll-caller.

The wives of the two leading presidential candidates—Peggy Goldwater and Mary Scranton—had box seats for the opener.

Mrs. Goldwater had stayed until midnight at the convention - eve, million-dollar, fund-raising buffet - dinner gala, which Sen. Barry Goldwater shunned for backstage convention business.

The Scrantons, also at the gala, had warmly exchanged greetings with Mamie and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. They left at the same time as the Eisenhowers after a half-hour at the jammed, noisy party, which featured a 60-foot-long buffet table loaded with delicacies.

Last of the presidential hopefuls to arrive was Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, who proclaimed to some 300 cheering, crowding airport greeters Sunday that she's still a candidate and "I have just as good a chance as anyone."

Man, Wife Team Teachers During Day, Also at Night

By LOU ARMILJO

ROSSELL, N. M. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. John Starkey could easily claim the title of Roswell's teachingest couple, if such a title existed.

Both teach elementary classes during the day and then return to work at night at Roswell's community college.

Why two jobs — plus any they can land during summers and any free time? They love teaching, says Mrs. Starkey. And the money comes in handy.

Mrs. Starkey earned her doctorate in elementary education last fall and her husband is completing Ph. D. studies this fall.

During the day she teaches first grade and he teaches sixth grade. At night it's elementary education for her and child psychology for him.

Mrs. Starkey says teaching the first grade gives her the experience and background better to teach the college courses. She noted, however, that "the first graders ask the hardest questions, like 'Where does the fire go when it goes out?'"

She has been teaching for nine years, beginning in Clovis, Tex., and Starkey has been teaching three years. He was manager of a meat packing house in Clovis before becoming a teacher.

"He enjoyed being a scout master and working with children so much he decided to make it his profession," Mrs. Starkey says.

The couple, both 41, have three children, ages 16, 14 and 12, all of whom are active in Scouting.

PREPPING FOR SALE — Forrest Thomerson (left), manager of the local Moore's Store, and Harold Brumfield are pictured here pulling regular stock (at special bargain prices) from the shelves for Thursday's third annual "Sidewalk Sale." Clerks will be selling merchandise from the sidewalks of the business area on Thursday as well as inside the stores, where the general theme of the event will be carried through — "Give Roundtown shoppers bargains as well as regular inventory items at specially reduced prices." Thomerson heads the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce committee directing the colorful event.

Study Finds TV Debates Good Idea

WASHINGTON (AP)—Television debates between presidential candidates are generally desirable, a study commission says, but "in some . . . situation it may be contrary to our national interest for the president to engage in debates."

The conclusions were reached by a nine-member commission of the American Political Science Association, headed by Carl J. Friedrich, a professor of government at the Harvard Graduate School of Public Administration.

"The presidential candidate who also is president," the commission said, "must consider fully the duties and responsibilities of his office before engaging in campaign debates. Only he can decide whether he will debate his opponents during the campaign. The decision is properly his."

A highlight of the 1960 campaign was the series of debates between John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon. Before his assassination, Kennedy said that even as president he would be willing to debate his opponent in 1964.

President Johnson has not announced whether he would be willing to debate a campaign opponent, but some sources say he plans no such encounter.

The commission cited the Cuban invasion and the missile crisis as recent examples of situations in which presidential debate might hurt the national interest.

Ohio Highway Work Resumes

Engineers Hint
OK of Contract

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Work resumed today on Ohio's $500 million worth of highway construction projects, with little or no effect evident from a three-day strike by the Operating Engineers Union.

The dispute with the Ohio Contractors Association ended Monday with the union taking back an approved contract for secret ballot vote by its 14,000 members. First indications were that the pact will be ratified.

Monday night, Frank Converse, business manager of the union's 3,500-member Local 18, said engineers in the Cleveland area seemed to favor the contract.

About 1,500 were at the meeting.

The contract is the second approved by negotiators. An earlier proposal was rejected by a vote of 218-174. The contractors contended the vote was not representative and sought a re-vote.

When the issue became bogged down the engineers went on strike Friday night. Because Saturday and Sunday were days off and a Sunday rain made work on most projects impossible Monday, the walkout never was felt fully.

Federal Mediator H. J. Montoney would not discuss the terms of the proposed contract to replace one which expired May 1. But Converse said the pact calls for hourly wage increases for Cleveland area engineers of 75 cents spread over three years. Members in other areas of the state will get a 55-cent-an-hour increase, Converse said, over the three years.

Operators of earth-spreading equipment will get an extra 15-cent hike over the same period, he added.

RFK Seeking To Join in Rights Test

ATLANTA (AP) Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, moving quickly for a court ruling on the civil rights law, seeks to join with three Negroes in the first compliance test under the statute.

His staff filed under Kennedy's signature a motion to intervene in federal court in a suit against restaurant owner Lester Maddox who has refused to serve Negroes.

Although there was no specific request for a three-judge panel, a government source said it was certain to be made by the time the hearing gets under way Friday. Proceedings thus far have been heard by a single jurist, U.S. District Judge Frank A. Hooper.

Kennedy asks for an injunction restraining Maddox and his restaurant from refusing to admit Negroes "upon the same basis and under the same conditions that non-Negro members of the general public are admitted."

Maddox, a segregationist leader, was sued last week by three Negro theological students who drove to the restaurant July 3, the day after President Johnson signed the civil rights bill into law.

They were chased from the parking lot by Maddox, who waved a pistol, and a crowd of white persons carrying ax handles.

In their complaint, they seek an injunction also.

Garbage Check

VANCOUVER (AP) — The city is paying 10 university students $13.37 a day this summer to follow garbage trucks on their rounds to check the number of garbage cans and describe what they contain as part of a survey of the British Columbia Research Council.

GOP Women Go To Work In Convention

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A record 573 women delegates and alternates have taken seats for the first sessions of the Republican National Convention with pretty secretary Polly Buck of Delaware in the starring role of roll-caller.

The wives of the two leading presidential candidates—Peggy Goldwater and Mary Scranton—had box seats for the opener.

Mrs. Goldwater had stayed until midnight at the convention—eve, million-dollar, fundraising—dinner gala, which Sen. Barry Goldwater shunned for backstage convention business.

The Scrantons, also at the gala, had warmly exchanged greetings with Mamie and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. They left at the same time as the Eisenhowers after a half-hour at the jammed, noisy party, which featured a 60-foot-long buffet table loaded with delicacies.

Last of the presidential hopefuls to arrive was Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, who proclaimed to some 300 cheering, crowding airport greeters Sunday that she's still a candidate and "I have just as good a chance as anyone."

Man, Wife Team Teachers During Day, Also at Night

By LOU ARMJO

ROSWELL, N. M. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. John Starkey could easily claim the title of Roswell's teachingest couple, if such a title existed.

Both teach elementary classes during the day and then return to work at night at Roswell's community college.

Why two jobs — plus any they can land during summers and any free time? They love teaching, says Mrs. Starkey. And the money comes in handy.

Mrs. Starkey earned her doctorate in elementary education last fall and her husband is completing Ph. D. studies this fall.

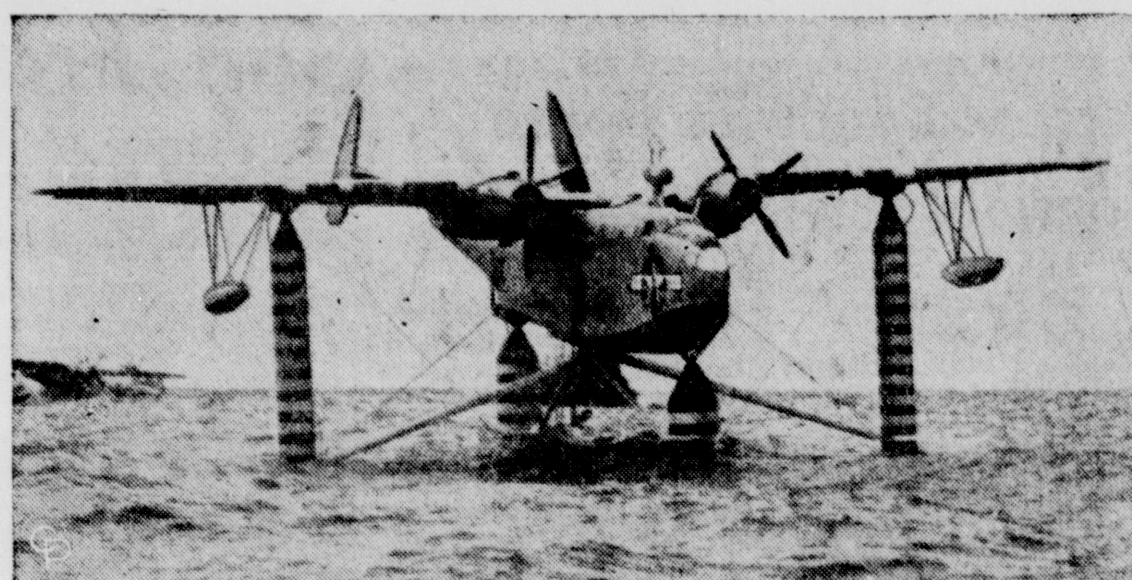

During the day she teaches first grade and he teaches sixth grade. At night it's elementary education for her and child psychology for him.

Mrs. Starkey says teaching the first grade gives her the experience and background better to teach the college courses. She noted, however, that "the first graders ask the hardest questions, like 'Where does the fire go when it goes out?'"

She has been teaching for nine years, beginning in Clovis, Tex., and Starkey has been teaching three years. He was manager of a meat packing house in Clovis before becoming a teacher.

"He enjoyed being a scout master and working with children so much he decided to make it his profession," Mrs. Starkey says.

The couple, both 41, have three children, ages 16, 14 and 12, all of whom are active in Scouting.

The World Today

By James Marlow

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—This Republican convention has all the usual—bands, singing, too many speeches—and no fire, thanks to the man with the extinguisher, Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Two things looked certain before the delegates got here: that Goldwater had the presidential nomination locked up and Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton had no chance for it.

Every time Scranton tried to light a match it got squirted with silence, or near-silence, by the highly confident, well-oiled Goldwater organization.

The attitude and the strategy were obvious enough: Why get Scranton any more attention by arguing with him?

There's no sign Scranton has been able to inflame the delegates from the time he announced his opposition to Goldwater last June 12. On the contrary, his bid for the nomination so far has looked extremely inept and futile.

This is an example: Sunday night, the convention eve, Goldwater received a letter over Scranton's signature in contemptuous language which the governor himself now says was "too strong." Goldwater was angry. But Goldwater's aides played it cool.

They sent a copy of the letter to every delegate and alternate delegate in the belief it would backfire against Scranton. They attached a note from Goldwater's campaign manager, Denison Kitchel, who said the letter "tragically" reflected on the party and the convention.

But Monday Scranton said he didn't compose the letter, and an aide said the governor hadn't seen it before it went to Goldwater. But Scranton said he is responsible for the letter, nevertheless.

By the time Scranton had decided to get into the contest in June, after wrestling with himself, Goldwater already had enormous delegate strength. He had been building it for 3½ years. Scranton had only about six weeks before the convention to undo it.

His main argument for getting into the race, of course, had to be that Goldwater was not the man for the nomination. To be convincing he would have had to show a vast difference between him and Goldwater or a real danger in Goldwater.

Instead, he started off politely, got impolite, got polite again. It was an on-and-off performance. It seemed uncertain. In short, what he waged was anything but a fierce, all-out fight. Finally, he worked up to calling Goldwater unfit for the presidency.

Meanwhile he put great reliance—or appeared to—in the hope that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower would work the necessary magic of swinging delegates to him by coming out in his support.

This kind of impression was further built up by Henry Cabot Lodge after a talk with Eisenhower. Lodge announced he had quit his job as U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam to come home to help Scranton win.

The former president chilled all this by insisting he was staying neutral.

So Scranton lost what might have been his best bet for influencing the delegates. What good, if any, Lodge was ever able to do for Scranton isn't clear at this writing.

Just before the convention Scranton was so obviously not making progress in winning delegates for himself or weaning them away from Goldwater that he went out to Illinois and started shaking hands with commuters in a railroad station.

But most of the Illinois delegates had already lined up with Goldwater. So what was Scranton doing shaking hands with commuters? He explained it was to convince Illinois Republicans to put the heat on the delegates to join up with Scranton. It didn't work.

If Scranton still hoped that somehow Eisenhower might help him, he got his final disillusionment Monday as the convention opened, and Eisenhower held a news conference. He said he wouldn't endorse anyone.

Big Feedbag Readied for Boy Scouts

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP)—There will be no food shortage for the estimated 52,000 Boy Scouts who will camp out in historic Valley Forge Park during their sixth National Jamboree July 17-23.

It will take 100 railroad freight cars and hundreds of trucks to bring in the tons of meat, fish, vegetables, bread, cake and milk that will feed the boys and their leaders.

The entire feedbag will cost $1.1 million.

Hot dogs that will be served at two meals to the participating scouts would cover 22 miles, if laid end to end.

There will be 1.1 million cans, jars and packages of foods delivered in 47,000 cases. This alone weighs over 700 tons.

Milk? over 600,000 quarts—enough to fill a small swimming pool. And ice cream? A quarter of a million dippers full.

Butchers will cut up 2,200 steers to get 25,000 pounds of steak for the gala windup dinner on Thursday, July 23.

To cook the food around 16,380 campfires the boys will burn up 245 tons of charcoal.

There will be no dishwashing. The scouts will use 8.5 million paper cups and plates at mealtime. Their only K.P. will be to clean the knives, forks, spoons and pots and pans they will cart from home as part of their camping equipment.

The jamboree isn't all eating. Between meals the scouts—in what is billed as the largest gathering of free youth in the world—will exhibit their outdoor skills and participate in a multitude of activities.

They'll all check in by Friday, July 17—some after sight-seeing tours in New York, Philadelphia and Washington—and pitch their two-man tents on the 1,900-acre site where George Washington's tattered Revolutionary War army spent the winter of 1777-78.

Already 765 scouts from 40 nations outside the United States, including 418 from Canada, are registered.

The major highlight of the jamboree—excepting the hoped-for appearance of President Johnson at one giant campfire gathering—will be "American Heritage Day" on July 18. This climaxes a national program cosponsored throughout the year by the Boy Scouts and Freedoms Foundation.

American Students Abroad Seek Serious Study Program

CHICAGO (AP)—There's a new look—and a new purpose—to the American college student who's bound for study abroad.

He's hunting for serious classroom study and wants a program of high academic quality when he takes his year abroad.

And more than likely he's going to Europe at the sophomore level, before he selects a major, rather than waiting till the customary junior year.

Officials at the Institute of European Studies here note these changes with interest, as well as the mushrooming of applicants for a year's work abroad.

Many students are now enrolled for all or part of the current year in European programs sponsored by American institutions.

And more are on the way. Says an institute spokesman: "Undergraduates make up an increasing portion of overseas students each year. Just recently, when the institute announced it would provide guidance for American colleges searching for a European full-year or one-semester program, it was staggered by the results.

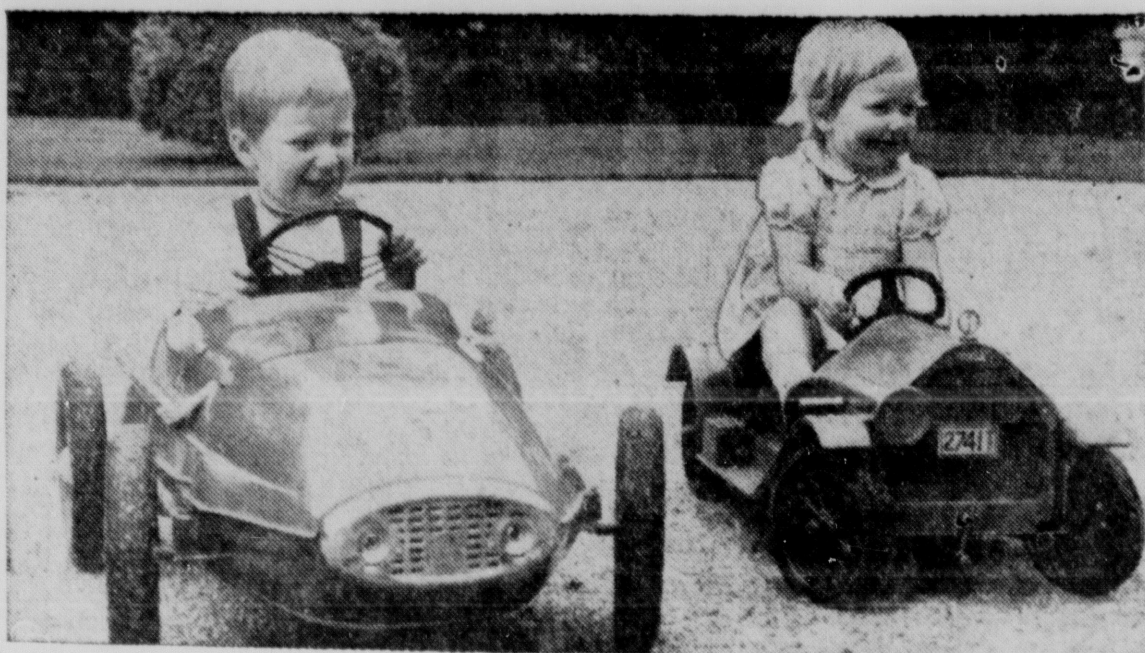

Officials of 85 colleges and universities asked for help. As a result, 71 new programs are being planned by the institute, of which at least one-third will be academic-year programs."

This burgeoning of enthusiasm for European studies pleases the institute's officials, who long have decried watered-down programs, which offer vague intercultural experiences, or travel—with college-credit programs that may not stand up to intellectual scrutiny.

They also give their blessing to the sophomore year of study, because the European experience can broaden the student's general education in the liberal arts field.

At the junior level, it is very possible, they say, that the student's major will be taken in a field other than the humanities, so humanities work in a foreign university, while enriching, may sidetrack him from his specialty.

Nearly 45,000 persons were treated last year at the Health Center of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union in New York City, the first union-sponsored hospital in the nation.

Mosquito Loop Action Sees Two Last Inning Victories

Two games played yesterday in the Mosquito League were both won by one run margins. Hill Implement edged past Ankrum Lumber, 18-17, in the regulation six innings while Mac's Goodyear needed an extra frame to defeat Lewis Cook Insurance, 9-8.

The Goodyear nine trailed the Insurance men for five innings before knotting the count in the bottom of the sixth inning.

The score was 8-6 going into the last half of that inning. Billy Halstenberg led off with a walk for Mac's and then scored on Tom Tatman's single.

Tatman stole second and third and moved home to even things when Mark Mills topped a slow grounder back to the pitcher who elected to make the play at first base.

THE WINNING run came in the bottom of the seventh when Kris Kline led off with a single. Terry Dountz and Mike Mills were walked, loading the bases. Then Tim Brown, the losing pitcher, issued his third consecutive walk to Punk Jones to force in the winning run.

Kline started for the winning nine. After allowing five runs in the first inning, he held the Cook unit to three for the next five frames.

He walked eight, fanned seven and allowed seven hits. Kline was relieved by Halstenberg in the top of the seventh.

Credited with the win, Halstenberg pitched to five batters. He walked one and fanned three.

Tim Mogan was the leading hitter in the game. He belted a triple, a double and a single in four turns at bat for the losers. Bill Wavering had a double and a single while Rex Riddle and Keith Davis cracked triples for the losers.

The winners could do no better than eight singles at the plate — three of them coming off the bat of Kline — but took advantage of 10 walks to pick up the win.

ARTIE FOLL and Jeff Arledge teamed up to hurl the win for the Hill Implement nine.

They were backed up by a 14-hit attack which was paced by Bill Sibbick. He had a double and four singles in five trips to the plate.

Tom Taylor and Foll each had three singles for the winners.

Dennis Leader of the Ankrum nine cracked a triple, the longest hit of the game. Jim Routt belted a double and a single while Jim York had two singles.

The big inning for the winners was in the second when they went ahead with a 10-run performance. In the fourth inning they lost the lead to the Lumbermen and the score stood at 16-15.

The game was knotted 17-17 as the final inning started.

THE WINNERS scored a single run while shutting out the Lumbermen. It was the only inning in which the losers did not score.

The win gives Mac's Goodyear third place in the Mosquito League with a 6-4 record. Hill Implement is in fifth with a 4-6 mark.

Lewis Cook is sixth with a 3-7 record and Ankrum Lumber is last at 1-9.

Blue Ribbon Tops Marketmen, 18-3

Blue Ribbon Dairy extended its Little League minor record to 6-4 by downing winless Ward's Market, 18-3, last night.

Jackie Allen was the winning pitcher. He fanned nine batters and allowed five scattered hits.

Steve Thomas paced the winners' 19-hit attack with a home-run and two singles. Jeff Linn and McCain blasted triples for the winners. Randy Sprout, Jim Neal and McCain hit doubles.

Don Fausnaugh and Mark Knece cracked doubles for the losing Ward's Market team. Fausnaugh added a single.

The New York Mets have four new coaches this spring—Don Heffner, Mel Harder, Wes Westrum and Warren (Sheriff) Robinson.

Elkmen Edge Legion in 3-2 Pitcher Duel

Herald Nine Posts 10-7 Verdict over Coke in LL Majors

In one of the finest Little League Majors games of the baseball season, BPO Elks had to fight for eight innings to down the American Legion, 3-2. The Herald doubled Coke's eight-hit output and took a 10-7 decision from the Bottlers.

The Elks-Legion classic will be remembered as a great pitching exhibition. A record 34 strikeouts were notched by the four hurlers used in the game.

The Legion could manage two safeties. The winning Elksmen hit six times.

BPO Elks scored twice in the first inning before ending regulation play five innings later. The Legion scored one run in the second and scrapped for the knotting counter in the fifth canto. Regular play was over one inning later.

WITH THE completion of the six innings, both teams had to change pitchers. In the eighth frame, Elks scored the go-ahead run on Rick Sim's single and held the Legion scoreless to win.

Bryce Brown was the starting Elks pitcher. He fired the initial six frames and allowed two runs on two hits while whiffing 15 batters.

Ty Ankrum took over in the sixth and finished the game to save the win for Brown. Ankrum allowed no runs, no hits and whiffed four batters.

Dave Hopkins started for the losers and fanned 10 batters in his regulation stint. Randy Dresbach relieved him and suffered the loss. He fanned five hitters.

Paul Moorehead laced a triple and single for the winners. Ankrum added a double and Charles Walisa hit a two-bagger.

Dave Hopkins and Mike Yates hit the two losing singles.

IN THE Herald-Coke tilt, Tom Bowers started for the winners, but left the game in the fourth after a five-run uprising. Billy Thomas relieved him and saved the game.

Bowers allowed six hits, walked three and fanned three in his short stint. Thomas walked one, fanned three and allowed two hits.

Steve Mogan, Tom Wickerham and Thomas carded triples for the winners. D. J. Humphrey added a double.

Gary Dunn fired for the losers. He allowed 16 hits and fanned five batters.

John Dean clubbed a homerun for Coke. Dick Walters added a triple and Gary Spangler socked a double.

After 10 games this spring Willie Mays of the Giants led both major leagues in hitting with .474. He also led in runs batted in with 18 and in home runs with 7.

Butch, Bakers Win Tilts in Babe Ruth

Dale Byrd pitched hitless ball for six innings to lead L. M. Butch to a 9-3 win over Du Pont in the Babe Ruth majors yesterday. Lindsey Bakery downed Logan Elm, 10-5.

Byrd had his bid for a no-hitter ruined in the seventh inning, when Roger Clark tagged a pitch for a homerun after the hurler had walked a batter and allowed a single. He walked one and fanned six.

Frank Carter fired for the losers. He walked 10 and fanned six while allowing 10 hits.

Nick Wickerham tagged three singles to pace the winners at the plate.

Clark's homerun and a single by Walter Jenkins were the only hits off Byrd.

In the Logan Elm-Baker tilt, the winning Breadmen had a slim one run lead in the fifth inning, but exploded for four counters in the final canto to win.

Don Cordle fired the win. He walked six, fanned 11 and added five hits.

George Hill tagged a homerun for the winners. Dave Justice added three singles.

George Helwag started for the losers and Russ Merrin finished up. Helwag walked five, fanned three and allowed eight hits. Merrin walked one and allowed four hits.

Dan Dahl and Jim Moorehead tagged losing doubles.

Sandusky Factory Shut by Walkout

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — A wildcat strike has shut down the Sandusky Metal Products plant. The walkout Monday, which union and management termed unauthorized, affected between 250 and 300 employees. Pickets from Local 21183 carried signs reading "Unfair Labor Practices."

PGA Practice Is Under Way For PCC Caddies

The PGA practice rounds got under way yesterday at the Columbus Country Club and work has begun for the Pickaway Country Club boys who are caddies there.

The youths have to report for duty every morning at 7 a. m. and be ready at the whim of the professional, to whom they have been assigned, to caddy a practice round.

Yesterday saw some of the boys get their "baptismal under fire" as they went a practice round with the professionals, familiarizing themselves with his habits and idiosyncrasies.

Richard Fuhrman, who was assigned to Arnie Palmer, discovered yesterday that Palmer's reputation for being demanding of his caddy is well earned.

FUHRMAN had the misfortune to break his glasses on the first tee. The start of Palmer's practice was held up for a few minutes.

And he was reprimanded, either by word or look, several times by Palmer. Not helping matters too much for the young PCC member was "Arnie's Army."

The "army" included a number of local fans. Gene Lindsey, Tom Eveland, Bill Heiskell and his son, were among those from Circleville who watched the famous golfer for a while.

Jeff Ankrum, caddying for Australian Bruce Crampton, had none of the pressure of a large gallery during his practice round. He said that Crampton is "real nice."

Today even more went the practice route — which is definitely practice for the caddy as well as the professional.

Tomorrow will wrap up the practice rounds.

AT 7:56 A. M. Thursday the first Pickaway Country Club member to ever caddy a PGA tournament will step up to number one tee. Mike Fyffe gets the first call with William F. Eggers of Black Mountain Country Club in Henderson, Nev.

At 8:26, Jim Turnesa of Rye-wood Country Club, Rye, New York, with Dick Patrick serving as caddy will tee off.

Tim Dickinson, who caddies for Billy Casper of the Mountain View Country Club, Corona, Calif., and Ankrum, who caddies for Crampton of Sydney, Australia, will be in the same threesome. Tee time for the group is 8:44 Thursday.

Bruce Helwag's professional golfer is Gardner Dickinson Jr. of the Lost Tree Club, Lost Tre Village, Fla. He will tee off at 9:16 a. m. Thursday.

Eight minutes later, Tommy Bolt of Paradise Country Club, Crystal River, Fla., will step to the number one tee and select a club from the bag that Steve Helwag will be carrying.

At 9:56, Billy Weldon will carry Clyde (Moon) Mullins' bag of clubs to the number one tee. Mullins is from Indio, Calif.

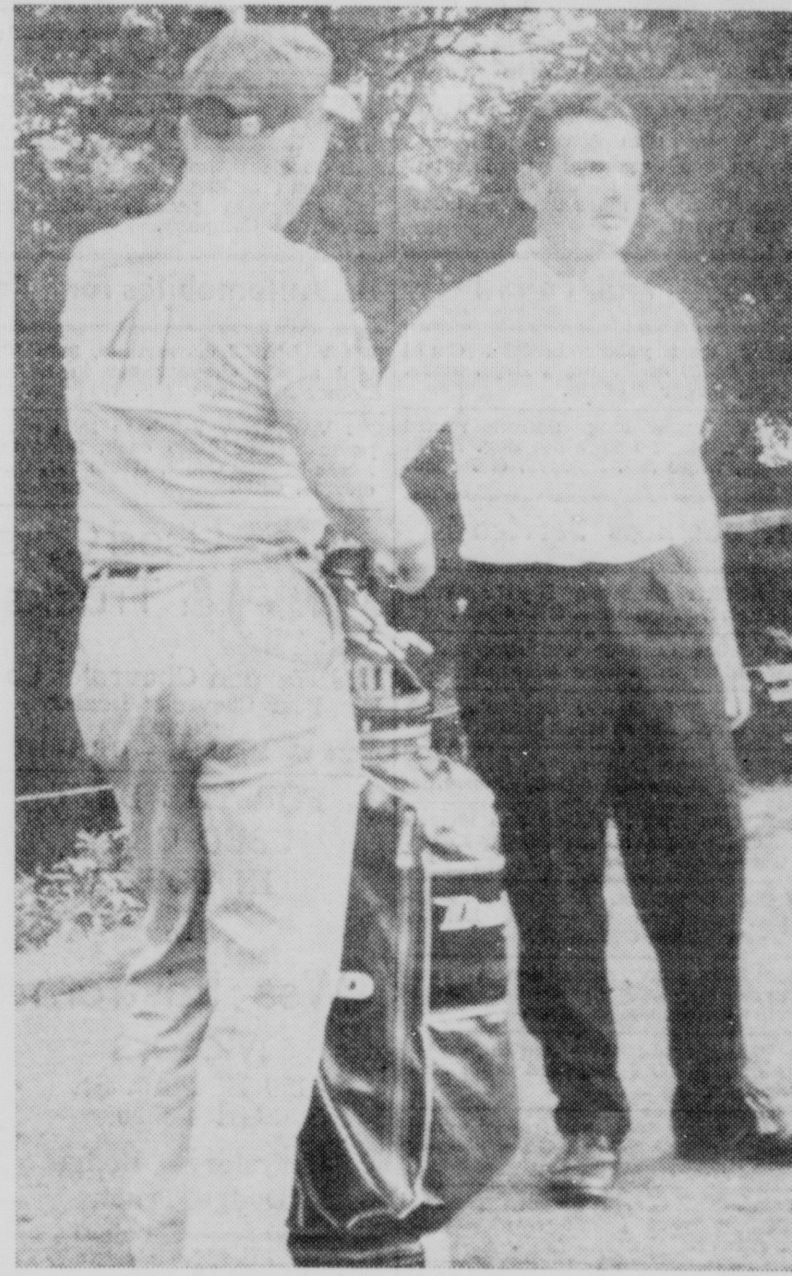

AT 12:35, Doug Ford from the Perdido Bay Country Club of Perdido Bay, Fla., will tee off. His caddy is Tim Adams.

Immediately after, John Wardell will carry the clubs of Jay Herbert, Lafayette, La., to the tee. At 1:08, Richard Fuhrman will step up with Palmer.

Tom Evans, the other PCC youth who will be serving at the PGA, is a forecaddy.

Mosquito Loop Action Sees Two Last Inning Victories

Two games played yesterday in the Mosquito League were both won by one run margins. Hill Implement edged past Ankrum Lumber, 18-17, in the regulation six innings while Mac's Goodyear needed an extra frame to defeat Lewis Cook Insurance, 9-8.

The Goodyear nine trailed the insurance men for five innings before knotting the count in the bottom of the sixth inning.

The score was 8-6 going into the last half of that inning. Billy Halstenberg led off with a walk for Mac's and then scored on Tom Tatman's single.

Tatman stole second and third and moved home to even things when Mark Mills topped a slow grounder back to the pitcher who elected to make the play at first base.

THE WINNING run came in the bottom of the seventh when Kris Kline led off with a single. Terry Dountz and Mike Mills were walked, loading the bases. Then Tim Brown, the losing pitcher, issued his third consecutive walk to Punk Jones to force in the winning run.

Kline started for the winning nine. After allowing five runs in the first inning, he held the Cook unit to three for the next five frames.

He walked eight, fanned seven and allowed seven hits. Kline was relieved by Halstenberg in the top of the seventh.

Credited with the win, Halstenberg pitched to five batters. He walked one and fanned three.

Tim Mogan was the leading hitter in the game. He belted a triple, a double and a single in four turns at bat for the losers. Bill Waverling had a double and a single while Rex Riddle and Keith Davis cracked triples for the losers.

The winners could do no better than eight singles at the plate — three of them coming off the bat of Kline — but took advantage of 10 walks to pick up the win.

ARTIE FOLL and Jeff Arledge teamed up to hurl the win for the Hill Implement nine.

They were backed up by a 14-hit attack which was paced by Bill Sibbick. He had a double and four singles in five trips to the plate.

Tom Taylor and Foll each had three singles for the winners.

Dennis Leader of the Ankrum nine cracked a triple, the longest hit of the game. Jim Rountt belted a double and a single while Jim York had two singles.

The big inning for the winners was in the second when they went ahead with a 10-run performance. In the fourth inning they lost the lead to the Lumbermen and the score stood at 16-15.

The game was knotted 17-17 as the final inning started.

THE WINNERS scored a single run while shutting out the Lumbermen. It was the only inning in which the losers did not score.

The win gives Mac's Goodyear third place in the Mosquito League with a 6-4 record. Hill Implement is in fifth with a 4-6 mark.

Lewis Cook is sixth with a 3-7 record and Ankrum Lumber is last at 1-9.

Blue Ribbon Tops Marketmen, 18-3

Blue Ribbon Dairy extended its Little League minor record to 6-4 by downing winless Ward's Market, 18-3, last night.

Jackie Allen was the winning pitcher. He fanned nine batters and allowed five scattered hits.

Steve Thomas paced the winners' 19-hit attack with a homerun and two singles. Jeff Linn and McCain blasted triples for the winners. Randy Sprout, Jim Neal and McCain hit doubles.

Don Fausnaugh and Mark Knece cracked doubles for the losing Wards Market team. Fausnaugh added a single.

The New York Mets have four new coaches this spring—Don Heffner, Mel Harder, Wes Westrum and Warren (Sheriff) Robinson.

Elkmen Edge Legion in 3-2 Pitcher Duel

Herald Nine Posts 10-7 Verdict over Coke in LL Majors

In one of the finest Little League Majors games of the baseball season, BPO Elks had to fight for eight innings to down the American Legion, 3-2. The Herald doubled Coke's eight - hit output and took a 10-7 decision from the Bottlers.

The Elks - Legion classic will be remembered as a great pitching exhibition. A record 34 strikeouts were notched by the four hurlers used in the game.

The Legion could manage two safeties. The winning Elksmen hit six times.

BPO Elks scored twice in the first inning before ending regulation play five innings later. The League scored one run in the second and scrapped for the knotting counter in the fifth canto. Regular play was over one inning later.

WITH THE completion of the six innings, both teams had to change pitchers. In the eighth frame, Elks scored the go-ahead run on Rick Sim's single and held the Legion scoreless to win.

Bryce Brown was the starting Elk pitcher. He fired the initial six frames and allowed two runs on two hits while whiffing 15 batters.

Ty Ankrom took over in the sixth and finished the game to save the win for Brown. Ankrom allowed no runs, no hits and whiffed four batters.

Dave Hopkins started for the losers and fanned 10 batters in his regulation stint. Randy Dresbach relieved him and suffered the loss. He fanned five hitters.

Paul Moorehead laced a triple and single for the winners. Ankrom added a double and Charles Walisa hit a two-bagger.

Dave Hopkins and Mike Yates hit the two losing singles.

IN THE Herald - Coke tilt, Tom Bowers started for the winners, but left the game in the fourth after a five - run uprising. Billy Thomas relieved him and saved the game.

Bowers allowed six hits, walked three and fanned three in his short stint. Thomas walked one, fanned three and allowed two hits.

Steve Mogan, Tom Wickerham and Thomas carded triples for the winners. D. J. Humphrey added a double.

Gary Dumm fired for the losers. He allowed 16 hits and fanned five batters.

John Dean clubbed a homerun for Coke, Dick Walters added a triple and Gary Spangler socked a double.

After 10 games this spring Willie Mays of the Giants led both major leagues in hitting with 474. He also led in runs batted in with 18 and in home runs with 7.

Butch, Bakers Win Tilts in Babe Ruth

Dale Byrd pitched hitless ball for six inning to lead L. M. Butch to a 9-3 win over Du Pont in the Babe Ruth majors yesterday. Lindsey Bakery downed Logan Elm, 10-5.

Byrd had his bid for a no-hitter ruined in the seventh inning, when Roger Clark tagged a pitcher for a homerun after the hurler had walked a batter and allowed a single. He walked one and fanned six.

Frank Carter fired for the losers. He walked 10 and fanned six while allowing 10 hits. Nick Wickerham tagged three singles to pace the winners at the plate.

Clark's homerun and a single by Walter Jenkins were the only hits off Byrd.

In the Logan Elm-Baker tilt, the winning Breadmen had a slim one run lead in the fifth inning, but exploded for four counters in the final canto to win.

Don Cordle fired the win. He walked six, fanned 11 and added five hits.

George Hill tagged a homerun for the winners. Dave Justice added three singles.

George Helwag started for the losers and Russ Merrin finished up. Helwag walked five, fanned three and allowed eight hits. Merrin walked one and allowed four hits.

Dan Dahl and Jim Moorehead tagged losing doubles.

Sandusky Factory Shut by Walkout

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — A wildcat strike has shut down the Sandusky Metal Products plant. The walkout Monday, which union and management termed unauthorized, affected between 250 and 300 employees. Pickets from Local 21183 carried signs reading "Unfair Labor Practices."

PGA Practice Is Under Way For PCC Caddies

The PGA practice rounds got under way yesterday at the Columbus Country Club and work has begun for the Pickaway Country Club boys who are caddies there.

The youths have to report for duty every morning at 7 a. m. and be ready at the whim of the professional, to whom they have been assigned, to caddy a practice round.

Yesterday saw some of the boys get their "baptismal under fire" as they went a practice round with the professionals, familiarizing themselves with his habits and idiosyncrasies.

Richard Fuhrman, who was assigned to Arnie Palmer, discovered yesterday that Palmer's reputation for being demanding of his caddy is well earned.

FUHRMAN had the misfortune to break his glasses on the first tee. The start of Palmer's practice was held up for a few minutes.

And he was reprimanded, either by word or look, several times by Palmer. Not helping matters too much for the young PCC member was "Arnie's Army."

The "army" included a number of local fans. Gene Lindsey, Tom Eveland, Bill Heiskell and his son, were among those from Circleville who watched the famous golfer for a while.

Jeff Ankrom, caddying for Australian Bruce Crampton, had none of the pressure of a large gallery during his practice round. He said that Crampton is "real nice".

Today even more went the practice route — which is definitely practice for the caddy as well as the professional.

Tomorrow will wrap up the practice rounds.

AT 7:56 A. M. Thursday the first Pickaway Country Club member to ever caddy a PGA tournament will step up to number one tee. Mike Fyffe gets the first call with William F. Eggers of Black Mountain Country Club in Henderson, Nev.

At 8:26, Jim Turnesa of Rye-wood Country Club, Rye, New York, with Dick Patrick serving as caddy will tee off.

Tim Dickinson, who caddies for Billy Casper of the Mountain View Country Club, Corona, Calif., and Ankrom, who caddies for Crampton of Sydney, Australia, will be in the same threesome. Tee time for the group is 8:44 Thursday.

Bruce Helwag's professional golfer is Gardner Dickinson Jr. of the Lost Tree Club, Lost Tre Village, Fla. He will tee off at 9:16 a. m. Thursday.

Eight minutes later, Tommy Bolt of Paradise Country Club, Crystal River, Fla., will step to the number one tee and select a club from the bag that Steve Helwag will be carrying.

At 9:56, Billy Weldon will carry Clyde (Moon) Mullins' bag of clubs to the number one tee. Mullins is from Indio, Calif.

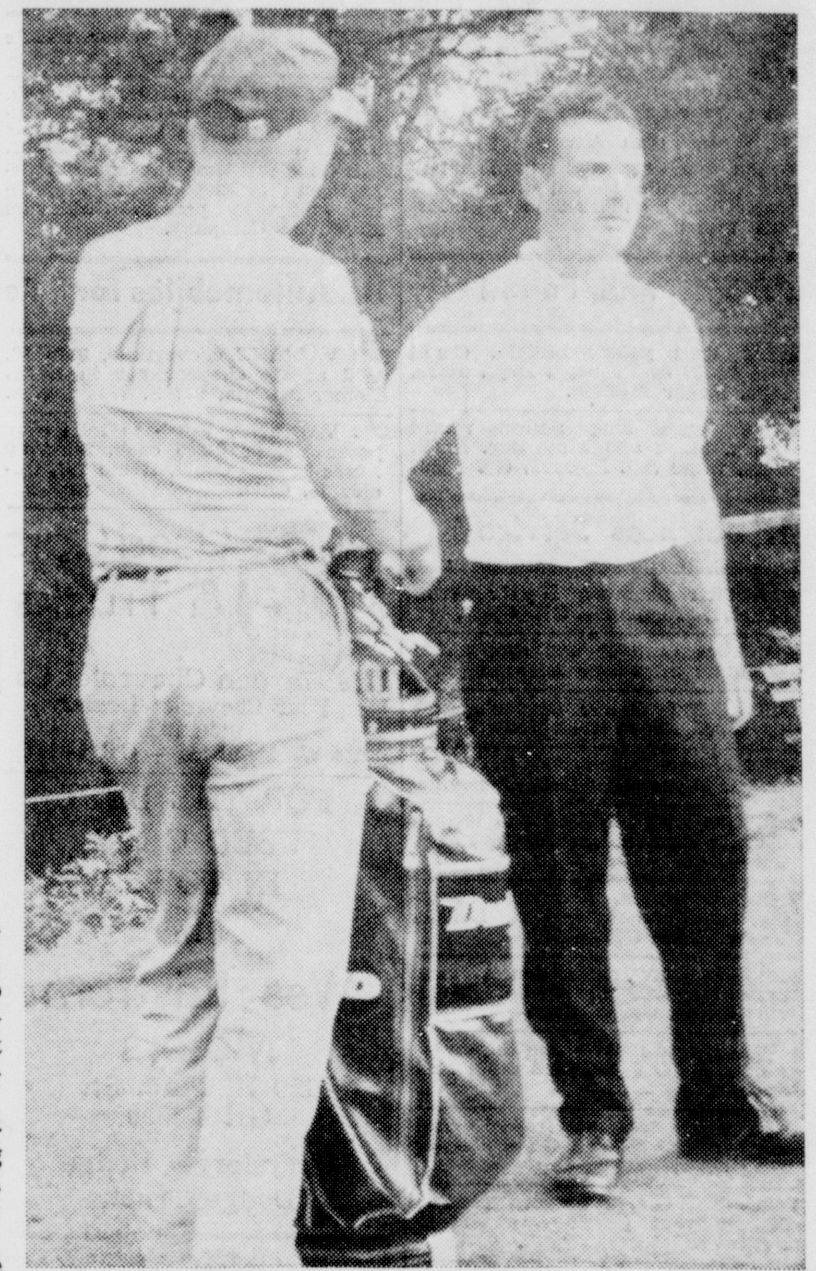

AT 12:35, Doug Ford from the Perdido Bay Country Club of Perdido Bay, Fla., will tee off. His caddy is Tim Adams.

Immediately after, John Wardell will carry the clubs of Jay Herbert, Lafayette, La., to the tee. At 1:08, Richard Fuhrman will step up with Palmer.

Tom Evans, the other PCC youth who will be serving at the PGA, is a forecaddy.

Hogan Plays By 'Instinct'

Bantam Ben Hopes For Luck in PGA

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The competitive desire is still there but the "feel" is gone, says Ben Hogan, making a comeback in the PGA Golf Championship at the age of 51.

"I am playing now largely on instinct," said the once-feared Texas hawk today. "It's all mechanical. If everything falls into place I might turn up with a fairly good score, but it would be lucky."

"The thing I miss most is feel for a course. You've got to have it to be a winner. You get it by practice and making a detailed study of the course. I'm not able to do it any more."

Hogan, playing in his first PGA in 11 years, will be one of 165 pros teeing off Thursday over the flat and relatively short Columbus Country Club course in the 48th professional championship.

The years seem to have taken little toll from the grim, strong-jawed onetime blacksmith's son who won four U.S. Opens, two Masters, two PGAs and the British Open to become one of the game's immortals.

There are only small flecks of gray in his hair. His face is nut brown. He is a trim 160 pounds.

He still walks the fairways with a majestic denied other men—stiff-legged from a near fatal auto accident, white cap pulled low over his eyes, his lips a firm line of determination and gripping an inevitable cigarette.

Close associates contend Hogan is hitting the ball as well as he ever did from tee to green but suffers from nerves on the putting greens.

"That's not entirely true," Hogan corrected. "Mechanically, I can still hit the ball and I still try to win, but there's a very important thing that's missing. That's the feel of the course and the inspiration. I don't have that."

Bears Prep For Defense Of NFL Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago Bears are back at work, getting ready to defend their National Football League championship. First item of business for George Halas and his staff will be sharpening up the offense.

Rookies were in the majority Monday when the Bears' early camp opened at St. Joseph's College at Rensselaer, Ind., where the club has trained for 21 years.

Never one to spare the horses, Halas planned to get right down to heavy work immediately just as he did last year. The Bears play the College All-Stars Aug. 7 at Soldier Field in Chicago.

As early as the Bears were, they were not the first to take the field. The Los Angeles Rams, New York Giants, Dallas Cowboys, Cleveland Browns and Philadelphia Eagles all beat them to the punch with their rookie camps.

The first pre-season game is the Bears-All Stars at Chicago Friday, Aug. 7. The rest of the NFL teams, except Pittsburgh, and the AFL will get busy the same weekend. Pittsburgh's first game is Aug. 14. The regular season opens in both leagues the weekend of Sept. 12-13.

CINCINNATI (AP) — If the baseball games become boring here this week, Cincinnati Reds' fans will be able to watch the Republican National Convention on television.

The Reds' management announced today that television sets, spotted around under the grandstand, will be tuned to the GOP convention during the Cincinnati home stand, opening here tonight.

Golden Bear's Troubles Mount on Journey Home

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Jack Nicklaus traveled 10,000 miles, tied the St. Andrews course record, sat up all night worrying about a train wreck, lost his passport, had to talk his way back into the country, got a vaccination he didn't need and then had to switch airplanes when an engine conked out.

And he still didn't qualify for the World Series of Golf.

So this week Big Jack will try it in his own back yard.

The last of the Big Four golf titles—the PGA—opens Thursday here in the town where the 24-year-old Golden Bear grew up and learned to bash the ball farther than any other player.

It's Jack's last chance to get into the field in the World Series, which is played just up the road in Akron, and pays $50,000 to the winner. Nicklaus has won it both years it has been played.

Arnold Palmer won the Masters, Ken Venturi took the U.S. Open, and Tony Lema the British Open last week despite a great charge by Nicklaus.

They are here for the PGA, plus such as Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson and Sam Snead, but Nicklaus will have home cooking and home rooting going for him.

He was glad to get back to both after the British Open, where he shot a course record, equaling 66 and a 68 on the final day for the finest two rounds ever played in one day at hallowed St. Andrews.

Lema replied with 68 and 70, and won by five strokes.

But Nicklaus' troubles were only beginning. He and his wife, Barbara, decided to take the train from Scotland to London.

"I was up all night, worrying," he said. "I think the trains run on the wrong side over there anyway, it always sounded to be like we were going to crash everytime one came in the other direction."

"After all, I haven't been on a train since I was 12 years old. Then I lost the passports."

"Well, they let us get on the plane, and we talked our way into the country when we hit New York, but we had to get new vaccinations, and I think mine is going to take."

"Then we got on a private plane I borrowed, and just got in the air and one of the engines conked out, so we had to go back and get another plane. Quite a trip."

Indians Hold High Hope in Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP)—If the Cleveland Indians are to start climbing out of their deepening slump this week, it looks as though they'll have to do it here. The Indians, who have lost 13 of their last 15 games, were pummeled 10-4 by the New York Yankees Monday night in Cleveland, the seventh straight game the American League champions have taken from the Indians this year.

And the Yankees will be the Tribe foes again the end of this week. After four games here, the Indians head for New York for a weekend series.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts called his coaches together after Monday night's game to ask for suggestions.

"We all agreed that this is a talented club, one that is pressing terribly," Birdie reported. "I don't want to do anything to indicate that we've lost confidence in our players, because we haven't."

He said he had no major changes in mind but indicated there would be some shifts in the lineup.

But he added that "this club basically has the ability to score runs. In our case when the big men don't get the job done nobody had been picking them up."

Tom Tresh belted two homers Monday night to lead the Yankee rout, and Mickey Mantle and Clete Boyer also homered.

Coach Sherm Lollar of the Baltimore Orioles began his organized baseball career in 1943 with Baltimore in the International League.

Homer Output Sets Record In AL Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Home runs were flying over American League fences at a record clip but Al Lopez wasn't concerned—until one of them got lost on Charley Finley's pennant porch.

Then the White Sox pilot blew his top.

There were 25 homers hit in the AL Monday, four more than the previous mark for one league in a five-game schedule and one more than Lopez' count.

He's convinced that Wayne Causey's homer in the second game of a doubleheader, a three-run shot that led to an 8-7 Kansas City victory over the White Sox, was nothing more than a figment of Finley's runaway green-and-gold drawing board.

Chicago had taken the first game 8-6 and was leading 6-3 in the seventh inning of the nightcap when Causey's drive fell where a pole separates the shortened portion of Municipal Stadium from the high wall in center field.

The umpires ruled the ball had cleared the porch's low fence. Lopez contended it had hit the wall in center and was playable. Lopez lost the debate and was tossed out of the game when he resumed it an inning later.

Ron Hansen of the White Sox and the Athletics' Jim Gentile then matched eighth-inning homers before Causey's bases-loaded single in the ninth broke up the eight-homer slugfest.

The split cost Chicago a chance to gain 1½ games on league-leading Baltimore, which dropped a 10-inning 4-3 decision to Detroit. The New York Yankees, however, gained a game on the Orioles with a 10-4 rout of Cleveland. Boston blanked Washington 7-0 in the other game scheduled.

San Francisco held its National League lead with a 5-3 victory over Houston while second place Philadelphia edged Milwaukee 3-2. St. Louis swept a doubleheader from Pittsburgh, 5-4 in 12 innings and 12-5. Chicago clubbed Los Angeles 10-4 and the Cincinnati New York game was rained out.

DANCERS READY — All decked out for the occasion, Mr. and Mrs. Clark McFarland, Route 3, will be one couple in a mixed group that will perform during the Circleville 'Sidewalk Sale' square dance. The quick-steppers will do their entertaining in the downtown area starting 8:30 p. m. Local couples interested are invited to take part. Al Hosmer of Westerville will do the calling.

'Sidewalk Sale' Dancers All Set

The sound of tapping feet and the lively whirl of fiddles will add spice and merriment to the evening portion of Thursday's "Sidewalk Sale" in Circleville.

All set to perform in the downtown area at 8:30 p. m. is a mixed group of renowned square dancers. Some of the quick-steppers are from this area and some will come from neighboring communities to participate.

Handling dance plans from the local area are Clark and Ethel McFarland, Route 3. Both are old hands when it comes to square dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. McFarland today extended a hearty welcome to any local couples interested in Western style dancing to join in the fun once the music rings out Thursday night.

OTHER entertaining events have been scheduled for the day. Included are a string band that will move throughout the downtown area and a parade by the snappy Davis Demons Drum Corps at 3 p. m.

The Circleville Art League again will set up its display and do free hand sketching in front of the May residence on S. Court St.

A local musical group, "The Stoneys" will perform from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m. Their show will precede the square dance.

Mr. and Mrs. McFarland consider square dancing beneficial in many ways. They rate it as a means of providing persons of all ages with pleasant recreation, promoting physical fitness and fostering an American folkway and folk music well worth preserving.

The couple considers "beginners" as the frosting on the square dance cake. Those who learn the basic lessons and absorb the fundamentals are then invited to join a square dance club.

The McFarlands say square dancing is not an expensive recreation. But they do term it an activity that provides opportunity to meet wonderful people and make many lasting friends.

ACCORDING to the McFarlands, here are the square dancers' Ten Commandments on human relations: 1. Speak to people — there is nothing as nice as a cheerful word of greeting; 2. Smile at people. It takes 72 muscles to frown — only 13 to smile; 3. Call people by name. The sweetest music to anyone's ear is the sound of his own name; 4. Be cordial. Speak and act as if everything you do is a real pleasure; 5. Be friendly and helpful. If you would have friends be friendly; 6. Be interested in people. You can like everybody — if you try; 7. Be generous with praise, cautious with criticism; 8. Be considerate with the feelings of others — it will be appreciated; 9. Be thoughtful of the opinions of others. There are three sides to a controversy — the other fellow's, yours and the right one; 10. Be alert to give service. What counts most in life is what we do for others.

Al Hosmer of Westerville will serve as caller for Thursday night's heel-kicking for the mixed group and others who desire to participate.

World population grows at the rate of two persons per second, 7,000 an hour or 60 million a year.

Warren Electrical Aides End Walkout

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Members of International Electrical Workers Local 1144 returned to their jobs Monday at Ohio Edison Co., ending a walkout that began last Thursday.

The company said office employees had remained on the job and there was no disruption of service. No reason was given why the union members resumed work. Negotiations for a new contract are in progress in Akron.

with excellent contacts in the Soviet Union reported today.

The source, who refused to be quoted by name, said Brezhnev would remain a member of the Soviet Communist party's 12-man ruling Presidium.

The elevation of oldtime Communist Mikoyan will be announced at the current session of the Supreme Soviet—the Soviet parliament—which began Monday, the source said.

He added that Brezhnev's replacement will begin a shakeup which will continue through the fall and which will include the promotion of Alexei Adzhubei, Premier Khrushchev's son-in-law, to be foreign minister.

Adzhubei is editor of Izvestia, the government newspaper, but has conferred with leaders of many of the world's governments during travels abroad. Veteran diplomat Andrei Gromyko is foreign minister.

In Moscow, rumors of an impending government reshuffle circulated Monday night among resident Western diplomats and correspondents. Neither confirmation nor denial of the reports were forthcoming from Soviet sources.

The source here said Mikoyan, a contemporary of Premier Khrushchev, 70, may owe his promotion to his age—68—and to his attitude toward the Chinese Communist party.

In a power struggle now beginning to shape up beneath the aging Khrushchev, the source said, Mikoyan arouses fewer jealousies because of his age and the consequent unlikely possibility he would take over the government on Khrushchev's departure.

Mikoyan has been reported wishing to avoid an open break with the Chinese party—which Khrushchev appears to have been heading for recently—and should any Soviet leader make a last-ditch attempt to smooth over the dispute with Peking, the source said, Mikoyan is evidently the man.

Brezhnev, at one time, was considered a likely heir-apparent to Khrushchev, but he appears lately to have lost ground, partly because of illness.

He was elected chairman of the Presidium of the supreme Soviet, which in effect is president of the Soviet Union, in 1960 and was re-elected in 1962.

DANCERS READY — All decked out for the occasion, Mr. and Mrs. Clark McFarland, Route 3, will be one couple in a mixed group that will perform during the Circleville 'Sidewalk Sale' square dance. The quick-steppers will do their entertaining in the downtown area starting 8:30 p. m. Local couples interested are invited to take part. Al Hosmer of Westerville will do the calling.

'Sidewalk Sale' Dancers All Set

The sound of tapping feet and the lively whirl of fiddles will add spice and merriment to the evening portion of Thursday's "Sidewalk Sale" in Circleville.

All set to perform in the downtown area at 8:30 p. m. is a mixed group of renowned square dancers. Some of the quick-steppers are from this area and some will come from neighboring communities to participate.

Handling dance plans from the local area are Clark and Ethel McFarland, Route 3. Both are old hands when it comes to square dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. McFarland today extended a hearty welcome to any local couples interested in Western style dancing to join in the fun once the music rings out Thursday night.

OTHER entertaining events have been scheduled for the day. Included are a string band that will move throughout the downtown area and a parade by the snappy Davis Demons Drum Corps at 3 p. m.

The Circleville Art League again will set up its display and do free - hand sketching in front of the May residence on S. Court St.

A local musical group, "The Stoneys" will perform from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m. Their show will precede the square dance.

Mr. and Mrs. McFarland consider square dancing beneficial in many ways. They rate it as a means of providing persons of all ages with pleasant recreation, promoting physical fitness and fostering an American folkway and folk music well worth preserving.

The couple considers "beginners" as the frosting on the square dance cake. Those who learn the basic lessons and absorb the fundamentals are then invited to join a square dance club.

The McFarlands say square dancing is not an expensive recreation. But they do term it an activity that provides opportunity to meet wonderful people and make many lasting friends.

ACCORDING to the McFarlands, here are the square dancers' Ten Commandments on human relations: 1. Speak to people — there is nothing as nice as a cheerful word of greeting; 2. Smile at people. It takes 72 muscles to frown — only 13 to smile; 3. Call people by name. The sweetest music to anyone's ear is the sound of his own name; 4. Be cordial. Speak and act as if everything you do is a real pleasure; 5. Be friendly and helpful. If you would have friends be friendly; 6. Be interested in people. You can like everybody — if you try; 7. Be generous with praise, cautious with criticism; 8. Be considerate with the feelings of others — it will be appreciated; 9. Be thoughtful of the opinions of others. There are three sides to a controversy — the other fellow's, yours and the right one; 10. Be alert to give service. What counts most in life is what we do for others.

Al Hosmer of Westerville will serve as caller for Thursday night's heel - kicking for the mixed group and others who desire to participate.

World population grows at the rate of two persons per second, 7,000 an hour or 60 million a year.

CAIRO (AP)—Leonid Brezhnev will be replaced as president of the Soviet Union in a few days by First Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan, an informant

Warren Electrical Aides End Walkout

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Members of International Electrical Workers Local 1144 returned to their jobs Monday at Ohio Edison Co., ending a walkout that began last Thursday.

The company said office employees had remained on the job and there was no disruption of service. No reason was given why the union members resumed work. Negotiations for a new contract are in progress in Akron.

with excellent contacts in the Soviet Union reported today.

The source, who refused to be quoted by name, said Brezhnev would remain a member of the Soviet Communist party's 12-man ruling Presidium.

The elevation of oldtime Communist Mikoyan will be announced at the current session of the Supreme Soviet—the Soviet parliament—which began Monday, the source said.

He added that Brezhnev's replacement will begin a shakeup which will continue through the fall and which will include the promotion of Alexei Adzhubei, Premier Khrushchev's son-in-law, to be foreign minister.

Adzhubei is editor of Izvestia, the government newspaper, but has conferred with leaders of many of the world's governments during travels abroad. Veteran diplomat Andrei Gromyko is foreign minister.

In Moscow, rumors of an impending government reshuffle circulated Monday night among resident Western diplomats and correspondents. Neither confirmation nor denial of the reports were forthcoming from Soviet sources.

The source here said Mikoyan, a contemporary of Premier Khrushchev, 70, may owe his promotion to his age—68—and to his attitude toward the Chinese Communist party.

In a power struggle now beginning to shape up beneath the aging Khrushchev, the source said, Mikoyan arouses fewer jealousies because of his age and the consequent unlikely possibility he would take over the government on Khrushchev's departure.

Mikoyan has been reported wishing to avoid an open break with the Chinese party—which Khrushchev appears to have been heading for recently—and should any Soviet leader make a last-ditch attempt to smooth over the dispute with Peking, the source said, Mikoyan is evidently the man.

Brezhnev, at one time, was considered a likely heir-apparent to Khrushchev, but he appears lately to have lost ground, partly because of illness.

He was elected chairman of the Presidium of the supreme Soviet, which in effect is president of the Soviet Union, in 1960 and was re-elected in 1962.
